

POSSE ON TRAIL OF FIEND MARTINEZ

LONE THIEF HOLDS UP HOTEL

Binds, Gags and Robs Clerk and Rifles Register of $875

Chased by Police the Bandit Makes Escape in Rain of Lead

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—While three guests sat in the corridor reading the morning papers, and with 600 occupants of the hotel asleep in their rooms, a clever and daring robber held up the night clerk at the Winchester hotel at 5 o'clock this morning, lured him to a room, bound and gagged him and rifled the cash drawer, escaping with $833 in a hail of bullets fired by pursuing police. Operating as silently as the night itself, and displaying a keenness and ingenuity which marks him as one of the most skillful crooks who has ever operated in San Francisco, the highwayman carried through every move with clocklike precision.

He attempted no violence in the true sense of that term. He made no loud display, he spoke softly but in a commanding tone, and although he almost killed Thomas V. Tved, the night clerk, he did so unwittingly; and while a bungler would have fired at Alexander A. Robertson, the elevator man, who interrupted him in his operations, he contented himself with following the method of quietness, and consequently escaped with his booty.

DETECTIVES STARTLED.

The amazing offhandedness and the consummate timing of the holdup startled the investigating detectives.

He entered the hotel at 3 o'clock, registered under the name of B. Hardy, paid for and was assigned to room 718. Instead of going directly to his apartment, however, he remained sitting in the hotel corridor, apparently reading a morning paper, but evidently figuring out the details of his proposed plan. He undoubtedly observed Tved when the latter deposited his money in the cash drawer, placing the key in his vest pocket. He noticed, too, that the night clerk carried a revolver and he knew where it was, and further he undoubtedly took cognizance of the fact that Colonel George Mygatt, a southern veteran, and R. R. Kirby Sr. and his son, R. R. Kirby Jr., the only other occupants of the corridor, were idling sleepily over the newspapers.

POLICE HAPPEN IN.

Shortly before 5 o'clock Policemen Jurgens and Ruggles happened in for a few moments, with the night clerk and left. Secretly had they gone and Robertson taken the annex elevator upstairs in response to a call when Hardy expressed a desire to go to his room and requested Tved to show him the way. He expressed impudence when asked to wait for the elevator man and therefore the night clerk took him up in the regular elevator. They went to the seventh floor and as Tved pressed the button and flooded room 718 with light, he found himself looking into the barrels of two automatic revolvers. His own gun was in his pocket, but he was helpless to reach it. "Lie down there on the bed, face down, with your hands stretched out over your head," ordered the highwayman. There was a menace in the INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 31.—Because George Davis did not dread hanging, but regards it as a desirable distinction, Governor Marshall last night commuted his death sentence to life in prison. Davis, a negro, murdered a woman companion at Gary, Ind., by cutting off her head with a knife.

Boston Welcomes Cardinal O'Connell With Big Reception

CARDINAL WM. O'CONNELL.

PALACE PLANNED FOR EMINENT CHURCHMAN

Men in All Walks of Life Do Honor in N. Y. to Cardinal Farley

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—Boston's welcome to Cardinal William O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, began today with the dawn and will extend over many days. Eventually a palace for the cardinal will be erected somewhere within the city limits, but today Cardinal O'Connell returned to his home on Granby street, in the Back Bay district.

The steamer Canopic, which carried him to Italy, brought him back again and reached quarantine about 4 a. m. Captain Carter held his ship for the usual port inspection, which gave an opportunity for the first greeting to be extended by Bishop Anderson, a small part of the clergy, Mayor Fitzgerald and members of the reception committee.

As the Canopic proceeded slowly up to her berth near the navy dock at Charles river, on the city side, crowds assembled along the line of march from the water front to the red-tiled house in the Back Bay, in front of which a tall arch of welcome had been erected. The committee asked his eminence to delay his departure from the Canopic until the escorting procession had lined up on State street and then cross the harbor to Long Wharf on the custom tugs.

A blinding snowstorm tempered the enthusiasm of the welcome. Greetings were extended in the library of the steamer Canopic by Bishop Anderson, on behalf of the church; by Mayor Fitzgerald on behalf of the city, and by Edwin Curtis, collector of the port. To their welcome Cardinal O'Connell responded briefly, but in terms of his appreciation.

Arrangements for the reception of the cardinal were held up for an hour through the suspected case of small pox on the Canopic. It had been planned to have him land at the dock, but the delay at quarantine obliged the reception committee to take him off half way down the harbor, landing him at Long Wharf at noon.

Tomorrow a penitential mass of thanksgiving will be celebrated at the cathedral.

HONOR FARLEY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Men in all walks of life and of varying religious beliefs were represented last night among residents who tendered a dinner to Cardinal Farley as a token of the esteem in which the new member of the sacred college is held by the non-Catholic population.

Last night's function was noteworthy for the inclusion in its program of the reading of a letter from President Taft, voicing American appreciation of three more American cardinals and paying tribute to the worth of the recipients of the honor, and for an address in honor of the guest of the evening by Governor Dix.

The President concluded his letter with a request for the presentation of his

MANCHUS NO LONGER REIGN

Edict of Abdication of the Chinese Throne Said to Have Been Signed

Understood Imperial Family Will Receive Annually $2,000,000

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The edict of abdication of the Chinese throne has been signed, according to a message from Tien Tsin.

PEKING, Jan. 31.—The imperial foreign board announced that the Empress Dowager informed the members of the cabinet at their meeting in the palace today that the throne had decided on a solution of the situation which would insure peace. She instructed the ministers to arrange accordingly.

It is understood that the imperial family has accepted the conditions laid down by the Republicans and that abdication will be announced at once. At a conference yesterday between the Empress Dowager, Prince Chun the ex-regent and Prince Ching, the former premier, it is believed to have been decided that the imperial family and princess will abdicate if they are allowed to retain their empty titles, reside in Peking or elsewhere at their pleasure, and receive annual pensions aggregating 3,000,000 taels (approximately $2,000,000) and that the transference of power would be carried out with as little loss of dignity to the throne as possible.

The court will not quit Peking for a month, as the Manchus troops of the garrison threaten to shoot the royal family and the princess if they attempt to leave the capital.

PANIC AT TIEN TSIN.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—A terrible panic among the officials in Tien Tsin caused many of them to seek shelter today in the foreign concessions. Martial law has been proclaimed in the native city. The mayor or has resigned, and fearing that the lives of the members of his family would be endangered, has sent his family to a French concession.

The armistice between the imperialist and Republican forces, which was officially renewed yesterday, is being disregarded by the Republican troops, according to a news agency dispatch received from Tien Tsin. The Republican army is following up the advantage it gained at Kuchang, where it defeated the imperial forces commanded by Cheng Hsun on Tuesday, and is marching towards Suchow, on the Tien Tsin-Hukow railroad.

REPORTS CONFLICTING.

No reports have been received here of serious fighting between the imperialist and Republican forces. Chang Hsun, commander of the imperial army, has not made any forward movement with his main force, but his outposts have come in contact with and been defeated by the Republican advance guard.

Whether Throckmorton's illness will result in a delay of the trial had not developed today. It was Throckmorton who sat talking to Captain Boyce in the lobby of a hotel when Speed stole up and began firing. Boyce was instantly killed.

MANCHUS CONFESSION MADE, IS IN CHARGE

Los Angeles Paper Declares Franklin Implicates Darrow in Admissions

Prisoner to Be Taken East for Purpose of Apprehending Fountain of Fund

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—The Examiner today says that Bert H. Franklin, former confidential agent for the defense in the McNamara case, made a detailed confession of alleged jury bribing in which he implicated Attorney Clarence S. Darrow on January 14. The confession is said to have been made to Assistant District Attorney Ford during the course of an automobile ride outside of the city, and in the presence of a third party.

The same paper states that the $4000 alleged to have been paid to Jurors Bain and Lockwood by Franklin was brought to Los Angeles from the east by a man who will be indicted before the grand jury concludes its investigation. The next move in the case, it is said, will be the release of Franklin on his own recognizance, so that he may accompany an officer east for the purpose of aiding in the apprehension of the man alleged to have furnished the bribe money. This will be followed by the indefinite postponement of the case against Franklin.

WILL BE WITNESS.

Despite the absence of any official statement, to that effect, it is generally accepted that Franklin will be the principal witness for the state in the prosecution of the indictment against Clarence S. Darrow for similar alleged offenses.

To offset his testimony it is understood that the Darrow defense will endeavor to prove that Franklin, if not actually in the employ of William J. Burns, at least was in the service of the state, while employed as confidential agent of the defense in the McNamara case.

Technical motions, attacking the two indictments on various grounds will be made tomorrow on behalf of Darrow, when the former chief counsel of the McNamara brothers is arraigned before Presiding Judge George H. Kutton of the Superior Court.

Darrow said today that his attorneys were preparing a demurrer. They will also move to dismiss the two indictments. These two preliminary moves will be made of record merely to preserve Darrow's rights as a defendant, his attorneys asserting that they want a verdict of "not guilty," not one of "not proven," which would be the result in effect, of a dismissal of the cases before they could go to a trial jury.

Championship Medals Given to Guardsmen

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—Championship medals were sent out today by Adjutant General Forbes to the three national guardsmen—Sergeant E. C. Crossman, First Sergeant J. C. Webster, and Major John S. The second medal of gold and silver goes to First Sergeant Francis Webster, Fifth Company, Coast Artillery, San Diego. The third medal, according to the third best shot in the State goes to Major John S. Lee, ordnance department, Woodland.

'Corn Stalk Disease' Spreads in Southwest

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 31.—An epidemic similar to the spasm of the corn stalk disease, which prevailed in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas in the last months has attacked the cattle of the southwest, according to Dr. J. C. Mumford of Colorado, Mo., who addressed the annual convention of the Missouri Valley Association here today. The mysterious malady is known to the stock raisers as the "corn stalk" disease, but according to veterinarians is none other than a bovine cerebro spinal meningitis.

YOUNG MOORE TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

Funeral of Slain Capitalist Will Be Held in S. F. Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—The granting of special letters of administration to Jefferson Moore, son of John J. Moore, the wealthy San Francisco coal merchant, by Superior Judge Buck of Redwood City, and the funeral of the deceased man at Cypress Lawn Cemetery this afternoon were the principal incidents in connection with the sensational death of the clubman today.

With the filing of a bond of $10,000 young Moore, who, by the latest will, has been left the entire estate, and Mrs. Moore cut out with $1, is placed in charge of the property in an administrative capacity. Attorney Derby was in Judge Buck's court and filed the bond, while his partner, Attorney McClanahan, was in consultation with young Moore in the coal company's office on Pine street.

At her home in San Mateo the wife, Mrs. Lillian Wagner McCarthy Moore, would not say as to whether or not she would attend the funeral services, scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, where the body now rests. The last rite will be performed according to the ritual of the Episcopal Church, the service being read by the Rev. Walter H. Cambridge, rector of St. Matthews Church, San Mateo. The chief mourner will be Jefferson Moore, unless Mrs. Moore should chance to attend, and it is understood that a number of personal friends of the dead man, as well as his business associates and employees, will attend.

HAS NO PLANS.

Attorney William Jordan, when interviewed in his offices in the Madison building, regarding what action Mrs. Moore had planned or not, said this morning that so far no definite steps had been decided upon.

"We have not even seen the original will," declared Attorney Jordan, "and it would be foolish for me to say anything about our plans when we really haven't a plan yet."

He also said that his only present connection in this matter is his being retained by R. S. Timothy to defend him. I am not being retained by Mrs. Moore to defend Timothy, as has been said, but by Timothy himself. The preliminary examination will be held next Tuesday in San Mateo.

Regarding the charge by Moore at the time he was in the hospital, following the shooting, in connection with his suspicious regarding his wife's misconduct, Attorney Jordan pointed out that in contradiction to all the sensational statements brought out at the divorce hearing, Moore himself had said on the stand, "She is a lovely woman." He had admitted in contradiction to everything else that had been presented that he believed his wife to be fair and lovely.

In connection with the will of J. J. Moore made prior to that of January 5, in which he bequeathed his property solely to his son, Attorney Jordan asserted that he had not seen the document, but that he understood that Moore had made a will two years ago in which he gave half of his property to his wife and the other half to his son.

BUTCHER IS HIDING IN HILLS

Antone Costanza, Would-Be Slayer, to Be Shown No Quarter by Pursuers

Fearfully Hacks and Stabs Sister-in-Law, Child and Friend, in Martinez

MARTINEZ, Jan. 31.—Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county and a large posse of deputies are scouring the hills three miles outside of this city today in a search for Antone Costanza, who yesterday morning terribly hacked his sister-in-law, Mrs. Salvador Costanza, and her five-year-old boy, Rocca, with an axe and knife following a quarrel with her husband. The woman is in a serious condition at the county hospital and probably will not recover. The child has a fair chance to survive his injuries. Antone, the assailant, escaped into the surrounding canyons and it is believed that he is armed with a rifle and revolver.

The act was committed following a quarrel between the two brothers in their boathouse earlier in the morning. They disputed over some work they were doing. Antone left but returned shortly with a revolver and took three shots at Salvador. Antone, a disarmed Antone. He turned away in a sulky mood. After he had been gone some time, Salvador's suspicions were aroused. He hurried to his home and was greeted with a terrible sight.

IN POOL OF BLOOD.

His wife lay on the kitchen floor in a pool of blood. Upon her body were seven gashing wounds, any one of which seemed fatal. Her neck was deeply cut, her right leg was almost amputated at the knee and on her breast and other parts of her body were a mass of cuts and bruises which had been inflicted by the blood-crazed man.

Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county was notified by neighbors who heard the screams of the frantic woman. A posse was organized and dispatched into the hills and out upon the bay. In the meantime Salvador attempted to take his life and he was locked up in the county jail as were also several other Italians who refused to give any information to the officers.

All three of the injured persons were taken to the county hospital, where it was believed by surgeons that Mrs. Costanza had little chance for recovery. Rocca, it was thought, might live and also the boy, Rocca. At the time of the assault Mrs. Costanza was in a delicate condition.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Virginia Wayne, 6 years of age, daughter of Paul T. Wayne, an advertisement distributor, is dead today as the result of playing hide-and-seek yesterday with two boy companions. Soon the barn was afire and the boys, becoming frightened, ran home. The girl, who was wedged so tightly between the hay bales that she could not extricate herself, was burned to death.

A few years ago I was troubled with a complication of kidney and stomach ailments and although I tried two or three different doctors, I was unable to obtain a cure. Having heard a great deal about Swamp-Root, I decided to give it a trial and purchased a one-dollar bottle of Mr. Alexander, the druggist. From the beginning I could notice a change for the better and after taking eight bottles of your medicine I felt entirely cured and have not had any trouble since.

I had begun using Swamp-Root sooner. I would have been a few hundred dollars to the good and saved myself a lot of suffering.

REPORT ON DELAY ON WATERFRONT

Merchants' Exchange Committee Declares Work
Will Be Pushed.

Delay on waterfront improvement work, particularly along the western shore, was the subject of a report to the Merchants' Exchange made by a special committee of that body last night. Complaints of the delay were lodged with the exchange directors some time ago and the special committee appointed to investigate the matter.

The majority report, made by Directors A. Jones, Col. Theo. Gier and Walker, is as follows: "The remaining members of the committee, E. A. Young and H. N. Gard, not reporting."

"The committee to which was referred the matter of the delay in the harbor improvement work report as follows:

"The work on the account of a sinking in one portion of the rock fill which requires the construction of a timber bulkhead. This bulkhead is almost completed."

"The work in the estuary has been delayed by the fault of the contractor. A new contract has been entered into calling for its completion in 340 days from date."

"Your committee have conferred with the commissioner in charge of the work, and also with the supervising engineer. We are of the opinion that the work done that work will be in active progress within 60 days, both on the western waterfront where a contract has been let for filling behind the bulkhead and in the estuary where the contract call for the completion of the quay wall from Myrtle street to Broadway."

"Your committee would recommend that Commissioner Anderson be requested to address the Merchants' Exchange at a future meeting on the development of the waterfront and the reasons as may seem advisable as to the future policy of the city of Oakland."

The minority members of the special committee failed to sign the report, believing that it should contain an investigation of the cost of the work done and the expenditure of public funds. This matter may be considered later.

SAYS WIFE'S LOVE IS NOT WORTH 'ROW OF SHOCKS'

Edmund Fauchet secured an interlocutory decree of divorce yesterday in the superior court from Marie V. Fauchet, on the ground of willful desertion, after retaining an unusual story of marriage. The couple were married in 1904, and the husband was deserted by Mrs. Fauchet seven years ago. Four years afterwards he received a letter from her stating that she was married again, but had left her husband and had an infant daughter. Incidentally she assured Fauchet that she had diamonds and cash without limit, that she was happy and that she still loved the man she first fled from. Fauchet declared to the court that he did not think love amounted to a "row of shocks" and that he was engaged a lawyer to bring the divorce suit.

Veale, Frederick Ware, P. H. Cunningham, Constable Charles Palmer, Marshall Maurice Taggart and more than a dozen specially sworn officers. They are heavily armed and the fugitive shows fight no quarter will be given. It is not known how much ammunition Costanza has with him, or what money he possesses. The two brothers were engaged in building small water craft for the fisheries. Cardinelli, an employee of the Costanza brothers, who prevented Antonio firing a fourth shot at his brother in their boat-building shops, suffered the loss of his three-year-old boy Francis last night when the lad choked to death on a piece of meat while eating his dinner. A physician who had arrived too late to dislodge the meat and the child died of strangulation in his mother's arms.

At Salvador's house, according to little Rocca, Antonio did not wait to knock. He pushed open the door and hurried through the empty front bedroom to the right of the hallway. His sister-in-law, rising from where she sat nursing her youngest babe in the kitchen of her home, went to meet him as she heard his footsteps in the hall.

NO WARNING, BUT CURSE.

He came upon her as she stopped, terrified by his look, and the doorway between the two bedrooms. With no other warning than a curse, according to Rocca, Antonio raised his hatchet and struck the woman with its edge upon the shoulder. The blow apparently broke her collarbone. As she sank to the floor he knelt and continued to rain blow after blow upon her prostrate form with the hatchet. Once the ax struck her in the thigh, just above the knee, and cut through the bone and tissue. Still not content, he drew a butcher knife from his pocket and breast and torso with this.

All the time that Costanza was attacking her the woman was trying to escape. The first blow had bereft her of speech, apparently, for no screams were heard by neighbors.

Little Rocca had by this time run in from another room where he had been playing. He ran to his mother's side and cried out to Antonio. The latter, ending the attack upon the woman, started for the boy. Rocca ran away from him, and Antonio slashed him twice in the back with the hatchet. Rocca fell to the floor and crawled beneath the bed, where his father later found him.

Content with the awful crime he had committed in the little cottage, Costanza ran out of the rear door and escaped. His sister-in-law, possibly in an attempt to follow him, dragged herself across the room where she had been attacked and crawled upon the small porch in the rear of the house. There she collapsed and lay until found by Salvador Costanza, her husband.

DEATH-BED STORY IS VERY TRAGIC

Former Partner of Sir Thomas
Lipton Dies in Pauper
Ward.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 31.—James Boyd, one-time millionaire tea merchant of Glasgow, Scotland, and business partner of Sir Thomas Lipton, world renowned yacht racer, was buried here today by a local charitable association. Boyd told a tragic story on his deathbed, attributing his failure to the actions of his wife, whom he said began a dissolute life soon after marriage.

To bury his trouble he first went to Africa, where he became still richer. He returned to England and failing to become reconciled with his wife gave her his fortune. He then came to this section and buried his wealth in the coal mines of this district, where he worked for years. He had been in destitute circumstances for years. He died yesterday in the pauper ward of the local hospital.

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 31.—Eight men were injured today, four seriously, by the falling of a crowded mine cage in the Electric Coal Mine, 6 miles west of Danville. It was stated by the mine owners that the hoist engineer lost control of the machinery, causing one cage with its human freight to drop to the bottom of the shaft, and the other coming up, empty, to be thrown from the mouth of the shaft.

KNOX SEEKS PEACE PACT WITH KAISER

Secretary of State Discloses a Diplomatic Secret at Press Club.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The fact that Secretary Knox has begun negotiations for a general arbitration treaty with Germany, similar to that which has been signed with France and Great Britain, was disclosed last night by the Secretary himself in a speech before the National Press Club.

None of the many prominent law-makers and newspaper men from all parts of the country who composed Knox' audience, had even suspected that such a treaty was under way. As a consequence, Knox' speech, which, in keeping with the "hobby night" program, was on his hobby—peace—created a sensation.

Knox made a second announcement, of world-wide importance, to the effect that "the broader proposition," which is an agreement on an international court of justice, and was initiated by the United States, has been favorably received by all the powers.

Knox made it plain that but for the fact that it had been made to the two treaties signed to the agreement with Germany would now be in actual existence. He left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that, in keeping with the "hobby night" program, the State Department will be ready immediately to send to the Senate the treaty with Germany.

John Temple Graves presided over the evening's program.

Besides Secretary Knox, some of the speakers were: Hon. Charles D. Walcott, Count Bernadotte, Dr. Stratton, director of the Bureau of Standards, and William J. Burns, the detective. The latter again referred to Samuel Gompers as a liar.

Victor Herbert, the composer, played his favorite instrument, the cello, for the club and their guests.

the Cost.

Declaring that a "trust controlling the catch of fish in this vicinity exists and that such a monopoly is doing great injury to the householder, Cragie Sharp appeared before the directors of the Merchants' Exchange at their meeting last night and asked that body to take action in the matter.

Sharp asserted that concerns in San Francisco control the catch and compel the sale of fish at from 18 to 22 cents a pound, making "a consumption almost prohibitive, when it could be sold as low as 8 cents."

"In order to keep the supply equal to the demand," Sharp declared, "these San Francisco establishments make it a habit to dispose of fish not sold and that could easily be sold at reasonable prices by sending them to fish factories or using them as fertilizer. In these days when the cost of living is high enough anyway, it is an injustice to make fish, naturally an inexpensive food, almost prohibitive."

That local retailers are not responsible for the high prices charged was the statement of Sharp further corroborated by Director E. A. Young, who said that he and others were compelled to pay 12 1/2 cents a pound and more wholesale for fish.

Owing to the failure of the state in many cases to secure conviction in the matter of the alleged trust, Sharp suggested that the federal government take up the matter. The matter was taken under advisement by the exchange, and Sharp will proceed to the collection of more data to be used at a future date in handling the affair.

TAFT ASSURED

SUPPORT

Will Leave Home State With Well Wishes of Republican Leaders.

Political Pot Boiling Merrily
in Many Eastern States.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—Pleased with his reception in his home state, President Taft will end his three-day trip to Ohio tonight at Akron, where he will address the chamber of commerce. According to Republican National Committeeman A. I. Vorys, the president will return to Washington with the assurances from a majority of Republican leaders that the state delegation to the Chicago national convention will be for him.

The president's program for his last day in Ohio was not strenuous and such as to give him sore throat an opportunity to heal before he gets back to the capital.

His list of engagements at Columbus included a meeting of Republican editors and a visit to the Ohio constitutional convention. He is due to leave for Akron this afternoon, and after his speech there tonight will start for Washington about midnight. He had breakfast at the local Yale club at the hotel and afterwards delivered a short talk in which he praised Yale for her many sons. He was cheered by the club members, who coupled Taft's name with that of "Old Eli."

PARTY WILL WIN.

Addressing more than fifty Republican editors of Ohio today, President Taft declared that he believed the party would win in November, but said that much of the brunt of the fight would rest on the editors. The President confessed that he had forgotten much about Ohio politics, but said he depended on the editors to bring him up to date.

He spoke as follows:

"The party has had during the last two or three years a hard time, but it is not the first time in its history it has had to go over rough places. It is not the first time in history that it has been unjustly attacked, when it has been misunderstood by the voters and its own members. I verily believe this coming campaign will show that it has the power in itself to overcome obstacles and to win victory again and show that it is the reality in the United States upon which we must rely for our future."

"The real truth is that we have not had the whole story told and we have not been out in such a way that the issue can be distinctly made and the facts bearing on that issue."

There has been a great deal of fog about the party, but we have stripped for the fight and get down to the arena with only two antagonists and the parties drawn up on each side, we shall be able to show a warrant for our continuance in power that the common sense of discriminating people cannot ignore."

"Upon your energy and faith in Republican principles and in your belief that the party has a large future of usefulness before it, rests the question whether we are to be successful in the coming campaign."

TAFT ENDORSED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The Republican general committee of Kings county (Brooklyn) last night endorsed President Taft for re-nomination. The resolutions declared that "this is the best of the world, the people and to the best interests of the Republic party that the delegates representing this county in the national convention use all honorable means to bring about the nomination of William H. Taft for President."

WOULD KEEP OUT.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 31.—Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, and long a personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt, said last night that he had just received a letter of five pages from the colonel, most of which was devoted to setting forth in very emphatic language his reasons for wishing to remain a private citizen.

"But what is he going to do about it?" asked President Wheeler. "Some seem determined not to run, but the politicians and the people seem to want him. And in the face of this," continued Wheeler, "Taft sentiment in California is gaining every day."

KNIGHT RETURNS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—George A. Knight, the Republican National Committeeman from California, is back from the east, where he had a talk with both President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt, last night that he had just received a letter of five pages from the colonel, most of which was devoted to setting forth in very emphatic language his reasons for wishing to remain a private citizen.

"But what is he going to do about it?" asked President Wheeler. "Some seem determined not to run, but the politicians and the people seem to want him. And in the face of this," continued Wheeler, "Taft sentiment in California is gaining every day."

"What President Taft needs," says the national committeeman, "in order to make a strong showing is an organization of his forces, a concentration of intelligent political effort. Both here and at the east this is the principal criticism of the Taft campaign."

"There is need of asking me what I think of the political strength of Roosevelt and of him as a personage. He is more than a national character. He is an international figure. As such, he is and will continue to be lauded and criticized by the nations of the earth. Roosevelt is a typical American citizen, and the men-uation of his name for the presidential nomination this year has set the people thinking."

"I nominated the third term idea will be the criticism of the politicians. I nominated and elected that will be the great verdict of the people."

OUT FOR ROOSEVELT.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 31.—The New Jersey progressives, led by former Governor Fort and Stokes have perfected an organization which they hope will be effective in capturing the New Jersey delegates for Colonel Roosevelt. Within the next fortnight Roosevelt headquarters will be opened here and in all the larger cities of the state.

World's Artists Will Sing for

Have you ever considered this in the course of your musings on the great works of the present age?

The great Tamagno is dead! Patti is in retirement. Michailowa sings nowhere outside of Australia.

Melba passes much of her time in Australia.

And yet the voices of all of them resound in your own parlors if you possess a Victor Victrola and Victor records. It is one of the achievements of the modern day, this condensation of a group of composition of the voices of the great artists.

Heretofore a musical instrument, the most costly the world has known, had their limitations. The flute is not a violin, any more than a piano is an organ, but of Victrola is both.

Victrola is a work of art, a work which the discovery of printing gave to the civilized world, and just as in the days of the early quarts and folios, books were the property of scholars and men of leisure and could not reach the great mass of a public not yet cognizant of their worth; so today the Victrola, though it has achieved success, has not realized its destiny. The time is come, and shortly, when a Victor record of the most beautiful works of life will be as common in our midst as the well wrought editions of classical literature."

The very living spirit of the world's greatest musicians is caught by the Victrola and given forth to a waiting world, a Victor record of the most beautiful works of life will be as common in our midst as the well wrought editions of classical literature."

Station Keepers at Melrose
Given Outside Details by Chief Wilson.

MELROSE, Jan. 31.—The ax fell this morning on the heads of H. L. Gilbert and J. E. Murphy, station-keepers at the Melrose police station, when an order was received by Captain Brown from Chief of Police Wilson, in Oakland, ordering the two men to report to Captain of Police Lynch at the Central Station this afternoon.

Murphy and Gilbert will be detailed to street duty. This brings the fight made by the two men to retain their position of station keepers without passing station service examination to a temporary close. It is likely that the matter will be carried into the court by the station-keepers in an effort to retain their positions.

Some time ago Chief Wilson declared his intention of forcing the station-keepers at Melrose to pass civil service examinations if they were to retain their positions. The men refused to do this. Later, a temporary appointment as station keepers was offered to Gilbert, Murphy and H. C. Armist, the third station-keeper, by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Turner. On the advice of an attorney the trio did not accept the offer, believing that they could hold their positions.

Why H. C. Armist is not also included in the order putting the other two men back to street duty, is not stated.

The following named were appointed to the places vacated by the deposed men: Robert Collett, Ed Frossman.

BUYS FLORIDA LAND AND GOES TO JAIL

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Fillers in Florida land no longer appeal to John Zimmerman, formerly a hotel keeper at San Diego, Cal., now locked up here on a charge of assault with intent to kill. He says that a land deal is responsible for his present situation.

"I bought ten acres of Florida land that turned out to be sand," he told the police. "I took one look at it and then returned to Chicago to find the agent. When I remonstrated against his treatment of me, he and an employee tried to remove me out of their office. I drew my revolver. It was accidentally discharged and here I am."

No one was injured in the fight except Zimmerman, who was bruised.

tone and Tved obeyed. The robber laid his guns on a chair, took from his pocket a roll of rope and bound securely his victim's hands and feet. Three towels were also utilized for additional security and a pillow-slip was pressed into service to help in deadening the sound of Tved's cries should he by chance succeed in freeing himself from the towel which was stuck down his throat. It was this gag which almost killed him, and he thought he was dying when twenty minutes later he was released by the porter.

ROBBER DESCENDED.

His work done, the robber descended. The three guests in the corridor were still behind their newspapers. One gun was in his pocket and the second he held in his hand, and Kirby Sr., who took down the paper for a moment, must have seen the clerk and told him not to flourish the weapon so carelessly. The thug had taken the precaution to procure the key from Tved's pocket and to take $3 from him, and thereupon he opened the cash drawer and abstracted its contents, amounting to $97. He had not placed all the coin in his pockets when Robertson, the elevator boy, came suddenly in. Like a flash the robber presented the gun at the latter's head and hissed "Be quiet!"

The young man instead of obeying ran towards the writing balcony at the rear, intending to drop out a window and summon the officers who had so recently been in the place and who he knew must be near at hand. His running aroused Kirby, who, still believing the clerk to be the man behind the door, rushed forward on the holdup man before he had quite scooped up the remainder of the coin. Once again the robber used his pistol and shoving it against Kirby's stomach, he made him go back to his seat.

He then jumped over the counter and ran out the front door.

POLICE ARE SUMMONED.

Kirby yelled to Robertson that he had gone and the latter returned and dashed after him while police whistles were blown. Officers Jurgens, Ruggles and Gaylord were in the vicinity. They caught sight of the robber as he fled around Jessie street and they pursued him in this section in a zigzag course to the neighborhood of Mission and Fremont streets, where among the ruins in the burned district and some vacant lots the highwayman was lost. As they hurried after him the patrolmen emptied their revolvers in the air, but he was neither frightened into a halt nor struck by the long-range firing, as no sign of blood could be found.

As soon as Robertson had spread the alarm he ordered the porter to aid him in finding Tved, whom it was feared had met with foul play. In room 113 the clerk was discovered, his face black and his struggles evident from exhaustion. The towel had almost choked him to death. He quickly revived and gave the following description of the much wanted robber:

Thirty-three years old, five feet five inches tall, 140 pounds, smooth shaven, slim build, slouch complexion, auburn hair, dark, cheap clothes, colored soft shirt, brown necktie.

"It was the most awful experience I have ever gone through," said Tved, when interviewed at his apartment at the Hotel Irving afterwards. "That robber was a little fellow and if he hadn't had such a drop on me I could have killed him. He was easy enough to handle, but he had two guns, and that was too many for me. I was glad he didn't hit me, although I was afraid he was going to every minute. When he had me down on the bed I was all right until he shoved that towel down my throat and that almost choked me when the porter came and rescued me. That fellow was around the corridor for two hours and he had been watching me."

"I never saw him before, but he certainly had a cinch. He worked so quietly, too."

PARTY PLEDGED TO CIVIL SERVICE, SAYS REED

Attorney Declares That State Administration Has Done Nothing About It.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 31.—Charles Wesley Reed, an attorney of San Francisco, delivered the second lecture in the noteworthy series of public discussions on political topics under the auspices of the League of the Republic and of the department of political science this afternoon, his subject being "A Civil Service Law for California."

He declared that California is pledged to a civil service law through the Republic party having full control of the administration.

"The party is pledged in its platform to a civil service law," he said, "but has done nothing as yet to translate its pledge into reality. It is therefore incumbent on the next session of the legislature to carry out the promises made to the people."

Reed showed what is meant by civil service reform, sketched its history, and explained why it is spreading into new soil and strengthening itself in the old. On the latter point he said that it succeeds because it works well and has justified itself. In the natural course of events it will spread until all political offices in the nation, state and city will be occupied by the new system. The speaker pointed out the abuse and weakness of civil service reform so that in its adoption in California the questionable features may be avoided.

WEAKNESS POINTED OUT. "What are these weaknesses?" Reed asked. "Civil service reform makes its way always in the teeth of opposition. They devise every expedient that their brains can concoct to destroy civil service and then in a selfish contemplation of their own handiwork, they say civil service reform is a joke. A really good officer, intent on getting the best possible staff, can generally do better work than a strictly civil service officer."

"Civil service men having been appointed for life, have no particular incentive to work and often sulk. It is inevitable that some incompetent, some bad and some temperamentally impossible men will be employed. It is very hard to get charges brought against them for removal. However, much the appointing officer may rail against civil service, he must wait to take the bread out of a man's mouth by causing his removal. In the process of time old age palsies the hand and deadens the faculties of the civil service employee. His salary is small. If he has a family (and most of them have), it is impossible for him to live. Pensions are not provided, and the civil service is not provided with a pension. The removal of the old men. The service gets worse with the passing of time. Old age is therefore a problem in any scheme of civil service reform."

REMOVAL FOR CAUSE. "What are the basic principles of the civil service law? The selecting power should be absolutely taken away from the appointing officer. Removal for cause by the appointing power should be made comparatively easy with the veto on unjust removal by the civil service commission. To make the civil service law respectable, the civil service commission must be a respectable power. Even with observance of these principles, the civil service reform will go to pieces on the rocks of classification if care is not exercised."

"Classification looks easy but most of the difficulties met with are due to foolish classifications or to classifications made by hastily appointed commissioners. The purpose of classifying civil service reform is to remove the folly of the well-meaning commissions and the making of the civil service law into a permanent law. The civil service law must be a permanent law. It must be according to duties. If all the employees having similar duties are put into one class, and a list of eligibles to fill the positions is made up, the result of the results of open and competitive examinations, the first requirement of an efficient and workable system will be met. The positions requiring peculiar skill or responsibility should be filled by promotional examination from the common or lower grade, thus securing to the lower grades the rewards of efficiency and promoting ambition."

"Because of unforeseen contingencies, the creation of new positions and the impossibility of filling all places in the government at once with civil service appointments, it is necessary to authorize the making of temporary appointments. This is the stalking horse behind which the spoilsman bags the civil service law."

"If the new law is to succeed it must have the ardent support of public opinion. The best law ever devised will fail in a republic unless supported by the opinion of the citizens."

SPOILSMAN TO "COME BACK." "The National Civil Service Reform League of which George William Curtis and Carl Schurz were the prominent members, is almost entirely responsible for the success of civil service in the United States. They kept the reform alive in its infancy; they brought it to lusty manhood, and made it a living force in the nation. That is the task laid upon the State League. History will record itself here in California. The reformer and spoilsman will again be enthroned. In that day civil service reform, if it is to be established in California, will face to face with the same experience that it met with in San Francisco in the Schmitz and McCarthy administrations. Only an aroused and progressive public opinion, stimulated by an active civil service reform league, will give to the merit system stability and continuity."

OAKLAND GIRL IS HEROINE OF PRETTY ROMANCE

MRS. J. BLAIN MACANDREW.

The secret of a runaway marriage in the small hours of the morning, and ultimate discovery only after nearly a month had passed are some of the romantic details involving Miss Lena Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bradshaw, 4201 Grove street, and Sergeant J. B. MacAndrew, U. S. A., of Washington, D. C., now temporarily in Oakland. The marriage took place at 2:30 in the morning in San Jose on January 3, and the news of it was successfully kept until within the past few days.

Sergeant MacAndrew came to Oakland only a short time ago when he met the Miss Bradshaw. He is attached to Battery E, Field Artillery, of Washington, and was transferred to the members of Battery B, Field Artillery, this city's new military organization.

The acquaintance quickly ripened into love and on Friday, January 2, Miss Bradshaw, accompanied by MacAndrew, came down town in Oakland, ostensibly to shop. Instead they boarded the train for San Jose, in an effort to keep the marriage secret. There they made several attempts to procure a clergyman to perform the ceremony, only succeeding finally when at 2:30 they reached San Jose. The wedding was hurriedly performed. The following morning the young couple returned home where the news of the romantic elopement quickly leaked out.

MACHINERY ARRIVES FOR EMERYVILLE PLANT

EMERYVILLE, Jan. 31.—The new machine shops and Westinghouse Pacific coast plant at Emeryville, Cal., on the Alameda street and 250 feet on Park avenue and Hallock street have been completed and the first arrival of equipment machinery arrived yesterday. The installation will be commenced at once and it is expected that the plant will be in operation within two weeks. The new building, fronting 275 feet on Alameda street and 250 feet on Park avenue, is of steel and brick construction and modern in every detail. A feature of the structure is the fine lighting system, the installation of which is being completed. A railroad siding parallels one side and greatly facilitates the loading and unloading of freight. The building will be used as a repair shop and for the assembling of machinery for the present, but it is the plan of the management to eventually do extensive manufacturing of air-propelled devices at the local plant.

Heretofore chairs have always been rented for the special occasions.

ONE DEAD, FIVE DYING, FROM EATING BAD PORK

SAN JOSE, Jan. 31.—One dead and five dying from improperly cooked pork, which had been home-slaughtered, is the deadly record in the Cogo family. Mrs. Minnie Cogo is dead and the dying are John, Joseph, Manuel, Tony and Frank Cogo. The disease which has proved so fatal is trichinosis.

Mrs. Cogo was taken ill several days ago, and a final diagnosis of her case revealed that she was suffering from the dread disease. It was then learned that about two weeks ago the family killed a hog and made it into sausage, of which all partook.

There is no better medicine made for colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, aids expectoration, and restores the system to a healthy condition. For sale by Osgood Bros' drug store.

Osteopathy for Nervousness

Osteopathy has been very successful in the treatment of nervous diseases, and has from the very beginning of its existence been tried in a great variety of cases in this class of diseases.

Nervous prostration, neurasthenia, nervous collapse, nervous exhaustion or nervous breakdown is a condition so common these days that almost every one is more or less familiar with its symptoms. The feeling of weakness and discouragement, the dread of sleepless nights, the fear of insanity, the headaches, the loss of appetite and many other unpleasant symptoms make one feel that his case is hopeless. Yet nearly every case is curable by osteopathic treatment if the patient is willing to co-operate in matters of diet, exercise and proper rest. This disease is not alone confined to business men, who live under the high pressure of modern business conditions, but teachers, seamstresses, society women, clerks, housewives, stenographers and people in every walk of life may suffer from it. The length of time required for recovery varies so much that no definite statement can be made except after a careful examination and a history of the case.

No charge will be made for consultation by Dr. E. H. Morrison, Sherman & Clay building, corner Fourteenth and Clay streets, Oakland, Cal. Phone Oakland 1018.

OAKLAND COMPANY LOSES $2876 SUIT

Gas, Light and Heat Company Will Not Be Reimbursed, Says Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—By a decision of the supreme court rendered shortly before noon today the Oakland Gas, Light and Heat Company loses in its effort to obtain $2376.74 from the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company. The case is an old one, dating back eight years to January 19, 1904, when George W. Scott, an employee of the telephone company, received a current of 12,000 volts of electricity while doing some repair work.

It was shown that the power wire of the Oakland Gas, Light and Heat Company had come in contact with the wires of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company and Dow had received a shock by touching a cable that was not supposed to be "hot." He was finally given judgment against the company when he jointly sued for $4758.47. The matter was taken to the supreme court, but the judgment was affirmed and through his attorney, Stanley Moore, Dow collected the entire sum from the Gas Company.

BRINGS ACTION. That corporation thereupon promptly brought an action against the telephone company for $2376.74, asking for an execution against them for the amount, which is half of the judgment given Dow. They claimed that the telephone company was equally liable; that the superior court of Alameda county refused to take the case to the supreme court. Today Justice Melvin sustained the lower court in his written opinion as do also Justices Henshaw and Lorian. It is held by the court that either of the defendant corporations are liable for the entire amount, and that therefore the gas company having paid it cannot demand reimbursement from the telephone company.

JOHN K. ORR LAID TO REST BY FRIENDS

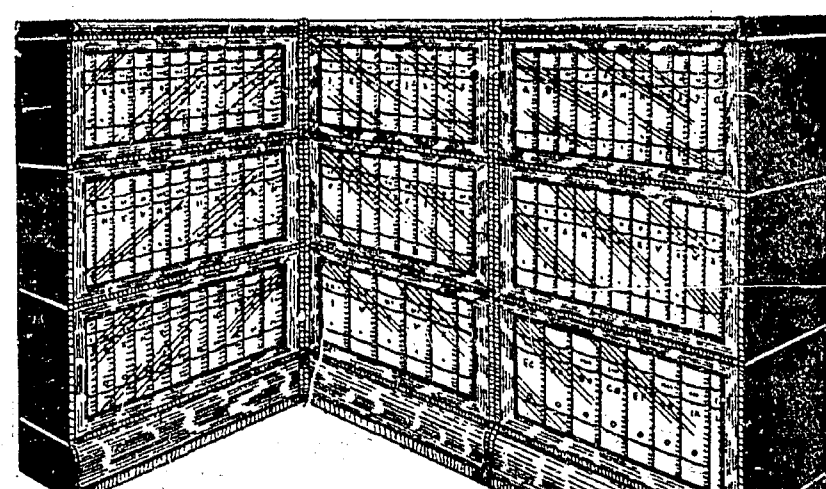

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The funeral of John K. Orr, pioneer merchant and former Oaklander, was held at 10 o'clock this morning at the family residence 1740 Walnut street. Rev. Edward L. Parsons, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church conducted the services in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The floral tributes surrounding the bier were many and elaborate. Numerous tokens were sent by fraternal associations, business life and by friends in social circles in which the family is prominent. The pall bearers were William DeFreney and Admiral George G. Kutz, retired, of Oakland and Messrs. Mills and Carney of San Francisco. The remains were interred in Mountain View cemetery.

A young son of S. A. Chamberlain had been bitten by a dog infected with the rabies and being rushed to Fresno to the State laboratory established there for the purpose of investigating such cases and treating them.

WHITE IS FIGHTING TO HOLD HIS JOB

Pays Visit to City Attorney Long, But Does Not State His Course.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Chief of Police White is fighting to hold his place as head of the San Francisco force. This morning he called on City Attorney Percy Long and talked over the legal phases of his situation. In a friendly manner and without asking for advice he outlined his hope that he might be able to stay a part of the administrative forces of the city, but left without indicating what course he intended to pursue.

Long refrained from giving the chief any advice, and so far it is not known what steps he will take. He has declared several times, however, that he will fight for his position and it will be interesting to note what course he will take at the session of the Board of Police Commissioners tomorrow. So far President Cook of the Board of Police Commissioners has not received any recognition and no meeting of the members of the board has yet been held for consideration of a possible successor to the chief.

HE SEES

This Man Has Several Hundred Dollars

This Man Knows

that California land is the best and safest investment for his money. He knows that under ordinary conditions land values will double by 1915

We can show him a condition that does not exist in any other part of the State, and can absolutely assure him several times the amount of his investment.

He Must Act Now

Opportunities pass him every day that he cannot take advantage of for lack of capital.

The Futility of Acting Alone

That the one way to get his share of the general prosperity that is coming to growing California is to combine with a number of people in the same situation.

We Offer Him An Investment

HE ASKS THESE QUESTIONS:

- 1—Will it bring large returns?
- 2—Is it backed by the right men?
- 3—Is the small man protected?

We answer these questions definitely and positively, proving every statement as we make it.

We want to deal with people who are at least interested enough in their future to ask us for the details.

DR. A. S. KELLY
CALLED TO STAND

Tells of Trouble That Arose
Over Formation of Good
Enuf Club.

When Judge Arnot of El Dorado county, sitting in extra session of the Superior Court, took up again the suit of Frank
M. Ogden, suspended student of the Oakland High School this forenoon, plaintiff rested his case, whereupon Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, representing the Board of Education and the High School Board of the High School District of Oakland, made a motion for a non-suit.
His argument was that the testimony of Ogden's witnesses in their proof that the school authorities had not suspended young Ogden without cause; Judge Arnot, however, refused to entertain the motion, saying that in view of the liberal review had given the case up to that point he preferred to hear the testimony of witnesses for the school directors.

The first witness called for the defense was Dr. A. S. Kelly of the Board of Education. He testified as to the trouble that arose between the educational authorities and Ogden and other High School students over the organization of the Good Enuf Club, the investigation of that organization and its alleged relations to the Gamma Eta Kappa fraternity, commonly known as Geks, and the final suspension of the students.

Dr. Kelly told the court that during the progress of the investigation the accused students, either individually or collectively, stated that the reason the colors of the Geks were persecuted on the pins of the Good Enuf Club was to indicate that the members of the latter also belonged to the "frat." They also testified, according to Kelly, that all members of the club were either Geks or pledged Geks, and that all boys had to be acceptable to the Geks before they were allowed to join the Good Enuf Club. The students also told the school directors the witness testified, that it took but one "blackball" to keep an applicant from joining the club and that organizations similar to the Good Enuf Club had been organized in other high schools to like the piece of the fraternity which the law had made illegal.

The examination of Dr. Kelly was resumed this afternoon and lasted until late in the day.

CALIFORNIA TO BE EMIGRANTS' MECCA

The Opening of Panama Canal
Will Bring Horde of Europeans Here.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 31.—That California is the one spot to be chosen by Frenchmen, Italians, Greeks and Spaniards who will emigrate to America after the opening of the Panama canal, and that he would advise his countrymen to settle here, "buy small farms and grow rich" was the statement of Claude Casimir-Perier, son of former President Casimir-Perier of France, in an address to the faculty and students of Throop Institute.

"I know of no better home for the French, the Spaniards, the Italians or Greeks," declared M. Casimir-Perier, "than right here in California, for those who desire to emigrate to your land, from which I have learned of California and its possibilities, I am certain these people could do well here."

TO DEVELOP DESERT.

"What you need, and undoubtedly what most all of the immigrants who come to your shores after the opening of the Panama canal will wish to do, is the development of your vast area of what is now termed desert waste, but which, I have found is the most productive soil to be found under proper cultivation. If these people come here they will grow rich."

M. Casimir-Perier is visiting the United States in the capacity of commercial envoy from his native land, and will make visits to nearly all of the principal cities before returning home.

M. Casimir-Perier asserted that on his return to France he would recommend that the principal steamship companies extend or alter their lines so as to make Los Angeles a port of call, or in event this could not be accomplished, the establishment of a new line to take advantage of the commercial possibilities which he believed existed here.

MISSING OPERATOR HOLDS UP BIG MERGER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—As a result of the mysterious disappearance here ten days ago of Eddy, attorney and mining operator of Goldfield, the largest mine merger in Nevada since the $50,000,000 Goldfield Consolidated was organized is held up. Business associates and anxious friends of the missing man have made every effort to locate him, but to no avail.

The more important properties involved in the proposed merger are understood to be the Atlanta, Kewanee, Cracker-Jail, Curley George and Boom Fraction, all in the heart of the Goldfield district. Their aggregate value is placed at $15,000,000 by those interested here. The missing man is said to have been in charge of two-fifths of the properties. He came here two weeks ago to attend a meeting at a local hotel, at which the merger was to have been effected.

Eddy conferred with John E. Clark, owner of the Curley George and Boom Fraction mines, three days before the date of the meeting. That was the last seen of him by friends or associates here. District Attorney Tilden of Goldfield and clients of Eddy are keeping the wires hot.

FAILS TO KILL SELF; TERRORIZES WORKMEN

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 31.—R. Pierson, a carpenter 45 years old, who has been working in the Northwestern Pacific railroad shops at Tiburon, became suddenly demented in his home yesterday, took a loaded shotgun, tied a string around the trigger and pulled the trigger with his foot. Even at such close range, however, his aim was poor, and the shot merely grazed his cheek.

Members of Pierson's family disarmed the man and endeavored to lock him in a room. He escaped, however, and yesterday ran amuck around the railway shops, terrorizing the men and forcing them from their work.

Last night Sheriff J. J. Keating went to Tiburon and captured Pierson. He is now safely locked up.

BRITISH GOVERNOR DEAD.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Baron Stanmore died here yesterday in his 84th year. He was one of the most prominent British colonial administrators, having held the post of lieutenant-governor or governor of a large number of British colonies, including New Brunswick, Trinidad, Mauritius, Fiji, New Zealand and Ceylon. He was a prolific author, and was a member of the House of Lords, though he took very little part in politics.

MOORE TO MEET FAIR ARCHITECTS

Exposition President Encouraged by General Interest—Shown Project.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915, is at the St. Regis and with him, besides Mrs. Moore and their daughter, are F. J. V. Skiff, director of foreign participation in the exposition, and the other officers who preceded them. They will be decided on first, and then the different parts will be taken up. The board of architects will have a meeting in San Francisco in February.

"While in Washington I called on all the Ambassadors and Ministers of the world," Moore said, "and I was greatly pleased to receive spontaneous promises of co-operation and assurances that their governments were interested and would be well represented. President Taft is warmly interested in the exposition and all the departments of the Government assured us of their co-operation."

HAVE ASKED NOTHING.

"While we have asked nothing of the Government in the way of appropriation, we feel confident that a Government building will be put up that will be a credit both to the people and to the exposition."

"The exact date of the opening is a matter that we have not settled upon. We wish to make it coincide with that of the opening of the Panama canal as closely as possible. There has been talk that the canal will be ready for navigation several months earlier than January 1, 1915. However, we want to make this exposition distinctive in many ways. For one thing, we expect to have the complete fair ready when we open the gates, and partly for that reason we are starting in early."

"One thing we are anxious for is a large foreign participation, and we would like to have every country in the world represented. The fact that the diplomatic representatives in Washington seemed so deeply interested in the project lent encouragement to this desire. Of course, there is hardly a country in the world that will not be represented in the opening of the Panama canal. We want to make this a really great universal exposition, and expect to make it so."

WELL, HERE'S GOOD RISK FOR ANY MAN

Chicago Widow Carries Policy of $1,200,000 On Her Life.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Charles Natcher, extensive owner of downtown property, is, so far as known here, the holder of the largest amount of life insurance carried by any woman. Mrs. Natcher has just taken out a policy for $200,000, making the total amount of life insurance now carried by her $1,200,000.

After the death of her husband in 1904, Mrs. Natcher took charge of his business affairs and soon became what is called in insurance circles a "good risk."

Mrs. Natcher's policies are with three companies, the other two being for $500,000 each.

SETS ASIDE AN ORDER IN OAKLANDER'S CASE

STOCKTON, Jan. 31.—The element of surprise in a legal sense has served to cause the setting aside of a default judgment against Rev. Edward E. Johnston, an Oakland Mission evangelist, who was sued in Justice Parker's court some time ago by E. F. Townsend for alleged failure to be due for the rent of some land.

Eccelestion was in Oakland at the time the action was brought, and the papers were set upon him there, who at first allowed him 20 days in which to answer. In the meantime he came to Stockton on business, and papers were again served upon him, allowing him but 10 days in which to answer. On the sixth day Attorney A. H. Carpenter obtained Townsend's default judgment. Later, however, when Justice Parker learned that the clergyman had originally been served in Oakland and the 20 days had not expired, he set aside his own judgment. Townsend took the case up to the Superior Court, and Judge Plummer has just rendered a decision sustaining Justice Parker's action in setting aside the judgment.

LIQUOR ORDINANCE DUE TO GET AXE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—The people of Sacramento are thoroughly aroused over the ordinance adopted by the city trustees. It allowed to go into effect the new law will restore licenses to 24 saloons and roadhouses that were put out of existence when Oak Park, Riverfront and Swiss station were annexed to this city.

At a meeting held last night preliminary steps were taken for the submission of the ordinance to a vote of the people before it goes into effect. The campaign preceding the expected election on this question is expected to be one of the bitterest ever waged here. The last municipal election was fought on this question and trustees were elected who had no record of crime.

J. W. Cronk, last night joined the saloon element on the board, and his vote passed the ordinance.

Unfortunately the old city charter has not the recall provision and the new instrument for city government does not go into effect until July.

PROMINENT MEN ARE OUSTED FROM BANQUET

SAN JOSE, Jan. 31.—A. E. Caldwell, formerly a managing official of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company here and now connected with the management of the gas company, and Louis Wood, with well-known hotel brokers, were "thrown out" of the Vendome hotel banquet hall Saturday night by Manager H. W. Lake without formal notice.

Caldwell and Wood, among others, donated automobiles for the use of the visiting Shriners Saturday afternoon and evening. Pressed by Henry Unken and others of the San Francisco delegation, whom they had entertained, Caldwell and King, accompanied by the Rev. Edward Johnston, were taken to the hotel by the San Francisco delegation. There Lake spotted them and "shooed" them out of the hall, not even giving them time to offer explanation.

Friends of the two men are up in arms over the occurrence, but protest apologies have been made and accepted. It was said by the Shriners club and Lake and the two men pointed out to him by Shriners who did not know them.

OFFERS ARMORED BIPLANE TO NAVY

Head of Manufacturing Company Plans Flight Across the Atlantic.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—John E. Sloane, head of an aeroplane company, who recently asked the Park Commission of New York City to set aside isles of safety for aviators, yesterday called upon Secretary of War Stimson to offer the United States an armored war aeroplane as a gift. He also visited Secretary of the Navy Meyer for the purpose of securing the co-operation of the navy in a flight he is planning across the Atlantic ocean from Glace Bay, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, to the Irish coast. This flight is to be made by a famous aviator in April or May.

Sloane, who is a cousin of Cecil Grace, the Irish-American aviator who was lost while flying across the English channel a year ago, wants Secretary Meyer to designate at least four warships to patrol the route over which the flight will be made. The board of warships from the British government and a number of private yachts from various clubs in the United States and Canada.

The biplane that will be used to make the flight is being built along standard hydro-aeroplane lines, except that it is stronger, larger and equipped with a more powerful motor.

Sloane says that his machine will have an innovation in the way of an abbreviated cabin, in which the aviators can rest in warmth and in which they will store food and drink and tools.

If they are obliged to alight and are unable to rise again from the water, the hydro equipment will enable them to keep afloat until a ship can locate them on the coast.

Sloane will not divulge the name of his aviator.

MOTHER-CRAFT TO BE IN CURRICULUM

New Yorkers Plan to Bring College Girl and Home Life Together.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—That the American girl in high school and college should pursue a different course from the one generally taught, is the opinion expressed by a convention of prominent women, members of the Colony Club, who plan a campaign in this country for the inauguration of mother-craft schools. The plan is to bring the young girl and child closer together, so that each may learn of the other, and the girl student may acquire a keener perception of home life.

Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, is one of the advocates of the movement which has the backing of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin and other prominent women.

"In the future," says Dr. Hall, "we hope to see every girl being educated to think that she will become a wife and mother. Now she is educated so that if she does not marry, she can become self-supporting."

O. HENRY STORY TO BE PLAYED BY STUDENTS

"The Call of Madison Square," an adaptation from one of O. Henry's popular short stories, will be presented by members of the Literary and Debating Society of St. Mary's College, Friday evening, in the gymnasium of the college. Broader and more than the college, Gerald J. Brushner of the class of 1913, is the author of the comedy.

Leo J. Murasky, an undergraduate student, has written an original drama which will be given on the same evening by a company of amateur thespians.

MAIL CAR REPAINTED BY TRACTION COMPANY

Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce the United States mail car operated over the lines of the Oakland Traction Company, has been repainted and furnished up, according to a communication received by the chamber from W. Keith, industrial agent of the Traction company.

Complaint was lodged with the company that the appearance of the car was weather beaten and generally detrimental to the city's good appearance. The action of the company followed.

SECOND INSTALLMENT OF TAXES FILLS COFFERS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—Nearly three-quarters of a million dollars have been received in State Treasurer Roberts' office this month in payment of the second installment of the 1911 corporation franchise taxes. The second installment becomes delinquent after the close of business on February 5. Many of the payments now being made are inclusive of both the first and second installments, plus the additional penalty on the first because of its non-payment on time.

EXPERT ON ACCIDENT PREVENTION TO SPEAK

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—Carl M. Hansen, expert on accident prevention, will give an illustrated lecture under the auspices of the civic center of this city, on Friday evening, February 2. The lecture will be on "Accident Prevention in the Industrial Establishment" and will be held in the high school auditorium, Grove street and Allston way.

Hansen is manager of the accident prevention and inspection departments of the Pacific Surety company and is thoroughly familiar with the subject as it is related to state and national life, both in this country and Europe.

The best and quickest prescription known to medical science for colds and coughs is as follows: "From your drugist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of concentrated Pine compound. The Apologia of Woodrow Wilson.

The correspondence between Colonel George Harvey and Woodrow Wilson, made public by the New York Evening Post, puts out of commission the story started by Governor Wilson's friends that the political relations between the New Jersey governor and the editor of Harper's Weekly were broken off because Colonel Harvey was a party to the attempt to get money for the Wilson campaign fund from Thomas F. Ryan. There is not a hint of Ryan or Ryan's money in the letters exchanged between the governor and the editor, and Dr. Wilson's expressions of personal regard for Colonel Harvey wholly negative the idea that there was any cause of difference other than Dr. Wilson's fear that the support of Harper's Weekly was injuring his candidacy.

Dr. Wilson says as much himself, and expresses regret that he spoke so coldly and bluntly. He closes his letter of apology to Colonel Harvey in these words, "Forgive me and forget my manners." In a subsequent letter he again expresses contrition for his treatment of the colonel, and tells the editor how much he admires him and how grateful he feels for the support Harper's Weekly has given him.

If this is not the truth, Dr. Wilson must be a great hypocrite and anything but a truthful man. Either Dr. Wilson's managers have grossly maligned Colonel Harvey or their principal has stooped to privately beg the forgiveness of a man he had grossly affronted in an effort to hold a support he had ostensibly repudiated.

The quittance Dr. Wilson gives Colonel Harvey applies to Colonel Watterson, who has been pictured by Dr. Wilson's managers as trying to entice the New Jersey executive into the web of the predatory rich. There is not a word about Colonel Watterson in the Wilson-Harvey letters, and Dr. Wilson's own statements substantiate what Colonel Watterson has disclosed about the Manhattan Club interview. Dr. Wilson's first letter to Colonel Harvey was written on December 11, 1911—some time before Colonel Watterson gave his version of the Manhattan Club interview—and his second letter is dated January 11th, a month later. Therefore, the letters were not prompted by the revelation made by Colonel Watterson.

It may be added that the New York Evening Post, which has given publicity to the correspondence, is an ardent supporter of Governor Wilson and states that the letters were published with the assent of both parties. The publication was not made to injure Dr. Wilson's candidacy and the letters were not given to the public in violation of the seal of privacy.

What effect the publication of this correspondence will have on Dr. Wilson's candidacy can only be conjectured, but for our part we do not think it will improve the estimation in which Dr. Wilson has hitherto been held. It is a cry of peccavi, sent forth palpably in the hope of regaining a lost friend. Plainly the doctor wants the support of Harvey and his friends while trying to make others believe he had rejected it. The note of chagrin that runs through the apologies and regrets is unmistakable. It sounds like the wail of a man who realizes that he has made a fatal blunder and feels as if he must retrieve it at all hazards.

Dr. Stone's assertion that he was promised immunity by John F. Neylan, member of the Board of Control, is not entitled to serious consideration. Mr. Neylan had no authority to grant immunity, a fact Dr. Stone must have known, hence any private agreement looking to making the law against embezzlement and malfeasance in office, if such there was, inoperative, was in the nature of a corrupt bargain. Mr. Neylan flatly denies that he gave any assurance of immunity, direct or implied, and Dr. Stone's admission of culpability is sufficient to enable any discerning person to form a judgment. The question is: Did Dr. Stone embezzle State funds? Whether or not he was promised immunity is quite beside the issue. If he abused his trust and appropriated to his own use public money and public property, in violation of law, he should be prosecuted and punished.

What the Third Term Cry Means.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Visalia Delta, is progressing nicely. About a year ago it was for Taft. Then it switched to La Follette. Now it is for Roosevelt. Its scouts the third-term precedent established by Washington, and thinks Roosevelt's nomination would close the breach in the Republican party. In our opinion the nomination of Roosevelt would open the breach wider than ever, and start a lot of new cracks; moreover, the third-term tradition still has a strong hold on the American mind. Roosevelt's actions and utterances have given it additional emphasis.

Nor is there any exigency requiring the precedent to be set aside. The talk about Roosevelt's nomination being necessary to the salvation of the republic is nonsense. If it be true that the country is in such imminent peril that only one man can save it, the situation is beyond hope—self-government is a failure.

The Roosevelt argument travels in a circle, beginning and ending with personal government as distinguished from constitutional government. It assumes that constitutional government has broken down, that the system of divided powers has become anachronistic and ineffective, and that all authority must be centered in one man. The thesis has been framed up for one man exclusively, and is fundamentally an attack on our theory of government.

Shorn of rhetoric and rhodomontade, it is the doctrine of absolutism, pure and simple. For a democracy unrestrained by constitutional limitations upon the exercise of power and safeguards for the protection of individual rights inevitably degenerates into dictatorship and tyranny.

As yet nobody has had the nerve to point to the confession of Zollic Clements as an argument for the abolition of capital punishment. But doubtless we will soon be told that Clements ought to escape the gallows because he has made a clean breast of his crimes. After his sentence has been commuted for life the same people will demand that he be pardoned or paroled. An honest man might be starving, but the morbid sentimentalists who take such a profound interest in criminals like Clements would do nothing to relieve his distress or get him work, but they have tons of maudlin sympathy to waste on murderers and robbers. They have nothing to bestow on those who are merely poor and unfortunate.

John J. Moore, the San Francisco capitalist who was killed in an impromptu duel with a chauffeur, was divorced from his first wife. Mrs. Moore was the cause of the shooting, was also divorced from her first husband. The infidelities and recriminations of the Moores have been the subject of much scandalous gossip and some unsavory litigation. The trail of domestic discord down to where it is dabbled in blood ran through the divorce court. Is it necessary to draw the moral?

—COLUMBUS DISPATCH.

Roosevelt Revealed as a Candidate.

Lawrence Abbott's letter to former Governor F. C. Stokes of New Jersey must be accepted as a proof that Colonel Roosevelt is intriguing for the Republican Presidential nomination while pretending that he is not a candidate and does not want to run again. Mr. Abbott is the son of Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook Magazine, of which Theodore Roosevelt is associate editor. Not long ago the younger Abbott said Roosevelt was not a candidate and would not accept a nomination. Roosevelt sneeringly said he had not read Abbott's statement and did not intend to read it.

Now Mr. Abbott comes out with another statement which puts the hero of San Juan Hill fairly in the field. It is an appeal direct from Macedonia. It is notice for the admirers of Roosevelt to line-up and get to work. It cannot be disposed of unless the oracle of Oyster Bay denies Abbott's right to speak for him and declares himself out of the race.

The Abbott letter is in harmony with Roosevelt's whole course of action since his return from Africa. It is in harmony with the attitude the Colonel has taken with respect to Taft and the insurgents. He has antagonized some of Taft's policies and has cultivated and encouraged the so-called progressives without endorsing their extreme views or their program. His particular friends have helped make war on Taft, but they have blocked La Follette at every opportunity. In Ohio, Michigan, Kansas, Nebraska and Oregon the Roosevelt clique has risen against La Follette, and in Missouri and Indiana it has risen against Taft.

The inference is irresistible. Roosevelt has fanned the fires of party dissension, helped to widen and make implacable the breach in the party, in the hope that both sides will call upon him to run again and save the Republican party from defeat. The scheme has been to kill off La Follette and Taft successively that Roosevelt may be hailed as the sole hope and reconciler of the party.

Recently the editor of the Pittsburg Leader returned from Oyster Bay and immediately hoisted Roosevelt's name at the head of his editorial columns. William Allen White prints a Roosevelt or bust editorial in the Emporia Gazette, and Governor Stubbs of Kansas makes a pilgrimage to Sagamore Hill with an appeal to Roosevelt to become a candidate. Simultaneously Governor Hadley of Missouri, like Montague at Barnet, goes over from Taft to the Roosevelt forces. Gifford Pinchot, James R. Garfield and Governor Osburn of Michigan are shouting in the back from Elba chorus.

The whole plan of battle stands revealed. It has not yet shaken off its furtive and treacherous quality, but it is being forced into the open and the Abbott letter makes its purpose too plain for further disguise.

National politics has so absorbed public attention of late that the political overturn in Louisiana has almost escaped notice. The regime which has controlled the politics of the Pelican State for the last fifteen years—ever since Murphy J. Foster was first elected governor—has been completely overthrown. Foster himself has been defeated for re-election to the Senate, and John T. Michel, the machine candidate for Governor, turned down. Governor Sanders, who was a candidate for the seat in the Senate now held by Thornon under appointment, is also in the discard. While the conflict was between Democratic factions, the result is that the control of the State passes wholly into new hands.

GREAT RAISIN CROP

More than $1,000,000 worth of raisins was exported from the United States in the last fiscal year, the quantity, 18,500,000 pounds, being far in excess of the total exported in any earlier year.

The imports during the year amounted to only 2,500,000 pounds, against 10,000,000 pounds in 1909, and as high as 50,000,000 pounds in certain years prior to the development of production in the United States.

The largest exportation of raisins recorded in any year prior to 1911 was that of 1907. According to the figures of the Bureau of Statistics, that was a little over 3,000,000 pounds, or less than half of 1911. The largest importation of raisins on record is that of 1884, when a total of 54,000,000 pounds entered the country, as against but 2,500,000 pounds in the fiscal year 1911.

Canada is by far the largest market for American raisins exported, the exports thereto in the fiscal year 1911 having been 11,000,000 pounds, compared with less than 3,000,000 to New Zealand, about 1,000,000 each to England and Germany and 5,000,000 pounds to all other parts of the world.

Of the 2,500,000 pounds imported last year, Spain, England, Asiatic Russia and Asiatic Turkey were the chief sources. These figures contrast with those of 1884, when of nearly 54,000,000 pounds of raisins imported Spain was credited with 47,500,000 pounds, England 3,500,000, and Italy near 2,000,000 pounds.

The marked falling off in importations of raisins is the result of the rapid increase in domestic production, which first attained commercial importance in the early '70s. The American raisin industry had its beginning in the great San Joaquin Valley and certain counties of Southern California, which is still the chief producing area in the United States. In 1873 the California crop was but 120,000 pounds, while in 1910 it had grown to 112,000,000.

While these figures suggest a growing consumption of raisins in the United States, the per capita consumption is still but one-third as large as in the United Kingdom. The per capita consumption of raisins in the United States in 1910 was but one and one-half pounds, compared with five pounds in the United Kingdom. Dr. Josiah Olden, D. C. L., Oxford, places raisins first among all known foods and superior to grapes "because the sugar has been thoroughly matured and ripened and transformed ready for digestion."

SERMONS IN BRIEF

REPENTANCE.

(By Rev. E. J. Bradner, pastor of Grace M. E. Church.)

My text is: "Repentance towards God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ."

The preacher who comes, thundering "Repent ye," can never be popular. That is, for any great length of time. In the end they will serve his head up in a charger or crucify him. Not, of course, on a cross of wood, but they will take his bread and butter away from him. That is history, and it will always be so, because there is nothing a man so dislikes to do as to repent and confess his sins. He is willing sometimes to reform, because he is losing his own self respect, or because he hears it whispered that he is going the pace, and his friends are shaking their heads. For the sake of the community in which he lives and whose good opinion he craves, a man may consent to lop off a few of his larger bad habits, but unless he quits his meanness because God says it is wrong, his reformation amounts to very little.

As for confession of sin, which must go with repentance, I have found that most men, and women, too, for that matter, are quite willing to confess their neighbor's sins, or the sins of the devil; but when they are caught red-handed, delinquent, they lay the whole matter on circumstances. "The woman tempted me," said Adam. So say most of his posterity under accusation. "Things are bewitched," the house maid said, as she dropped a costly vase and broke it. God gives us the opportunity of confessing sin. If we refuse to confess he exposes us. "Chickens come home to roost." "Be sure your sin will find you out." "Sin is a moral boomerang; it returns to the place from whence it came. The worst thing about a lie is that it makes a liar. And another lie will follow until the liar becomes a lie himself. Murder will out, you know. God does not have to keep bloodhounds to track law-breakers, because his laws are self-enforcing. "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive." And the tangle grows as we proceed, until in the end we are like Gulliver and the Lilliputians. The giant was bound with small threads until he was unable to escape.

And finally, just as the ships a hundred miles at sea by their sails, focus the sound that the chiming of the evening bells may be heard, so noting the rapid downward progress of those prone to evil, we are prepared for the announcement that the "wages of sin is death." Remember the angel song, announcing the advent of the Redeemer. "A Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Nicodemus learned "that whosoever believeth in him, shall not perish, but have everlasting life." John said to his anxious disciples, as he pointed to Jesus' retreating figure on his way to the wilderness temptation, "Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world." If you are tired of sin and sinning, come to Him.

The Prettiest Picture

Is the one that's appropriately framed. The framing of a picture makes or mars it as a work of art, according to the skill or lack of skill of the picture-framer.

We have made a study of picture-framing and have the materials to select the most suitable frame for any picture you may bring us.

REMARKABLE PRISON

When the authorities of Graham county, Ariz., decided to look about for a place in which to confine criminals, they found a natural depression in the side of a hill. This was enlarged into what might be called an artificial cave, divided into four compartments, which are connected by gates of steel bars. The only way of entering the prison is through the vestibule of masonry, and in order to escape the inmates would have to cut their way through three sets of bars which are an inch in thickness, as the windows are so high above the rock forming the floor of the cells that they could not reach them. It is necessary, however, to have a very secure place, as the criminals in this part of the country are of a most desperate class, and the inmates frequently include murderers and highwaymen. The mountain which has thus been turned into a prison is composed of solid quartz rock, and the excavation was made principally by the use of explosives. The jail is located in the town of Clifton, the country seat.—Wide World Magazine.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Charles D. Sewell, treasurer of the Oakland theater, persists in resigning. Although his friends have urged him to stay he refuses to accept the offers made him.

Visitors to the State University at Berkeley will do well to cast their eyes about two miles to the north, for there on the hills it was that General Fremont camped with his men at the close of the forties. Domingo Peralta was the owner of all Alameda county at that time and had big herds of cattle roving west Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda now stand.

John J. Hughes was given a surprise by his friends at his home on Willow street Thursday evening, when the following were present: Misses Annie A. Jones, Mary E. Roberts, Sarah Hughes, Laura Lloyd, Katie Abrams, Lizzie Rowlands, Ella Thomas, Lizzie Thomas, Eleanor Williams, Grace Owens and Jennie Bonnell; Messrs. John J. Hughes, Dave Hughes, John Williams, Roger Davis, Humphrey Hughes, Tom Hughes, Arthur Hughes, A. H. Jones, O. P. Williams and Owen Williams.

The engagement was formally announced Sunday of S. F. Lewin of this city and Miss Bertha Aronson of San Francisco, the betrothal taking place at the residence of Mr. Lewin's sister, Mrs. M. Jacobs, 955 Jefferson street.

The wedding of Miss E. May Vesa Wheeler, daughter of Thomas Wheeler of this city, and Jesse Warren Churchill of Treka will take place next month.

A daring attempt was made on Saturday afternoon to burn the First Unitarian Church of Alameda of which Rev. W. W. Scudder is pastor. A pile of pampas grass on the interior was set afire and the doors locked and the keys carried away. The blaze was discovered by the sexton about 5 o'clock and extinguished.

The friends of Dr. Fred A. Sawyer tendered him a surprise last Saturday evening in Bartlett Hall, West Oakland, in honor of his twenty-first birthday. Among those present were: James Hanford, Caesar Beretta, Chester Myrick, George Colyer, William H. Wheeler, Fred Stewart, Samuel Bodwell, C. B. McBride, Gus Sawyer, H. L. McCray, Wilbur Hawley, Norman Halsey, Dr. Frear, Dr. Carwin, John Sands, Miss Mattie Ludlow, Miss Aggie Henderson, Miss Emma Goodwin, Miss Hattie Curtiss, Miss Bell Hanford, Miss Grace Sawyer, Miss Ada McVade, Miss Gertrude Hatch, Miss Julia Ludlow, Miss Anna Sawyer, Miss Susie Smith and others.

HOW WILL THEY CLASSIFY YOU?

Do You Love Liquor, Sell It or Do Both These Things
at Once?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—"Men are divided into three classes: Those who love their liquor, those who sell liquor, and politicians who are on both sides of the question."

Mrs. E. F. Irvine of Washington, Ga. made that statement on the House on judiciary today at the conclusion of her speech urging a law forbidding interstate commerce in alcoholic liquors.

Feathers on the hats of a hundred women nodded approval. Representative Carly of Virginia rallied to the defense of the men. The committee looked pleased until Representative Rucker of Missouri spoke up.

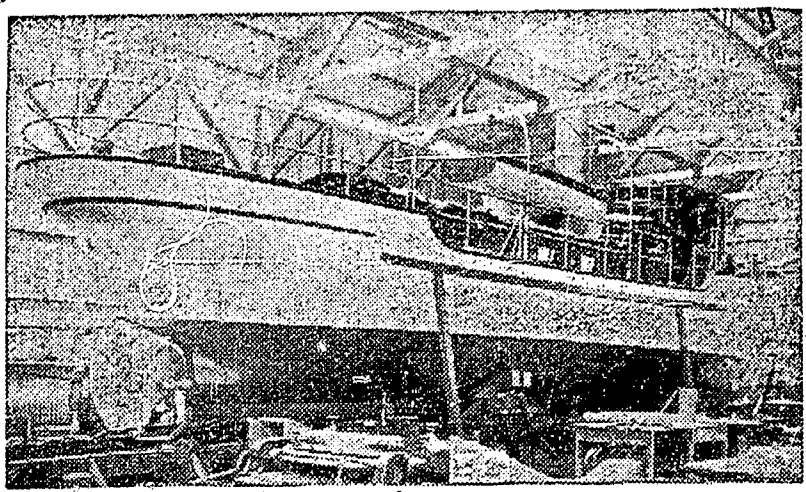

"I believe all of us are on one side of the question," he said, "but some of us don't like to talk about it."

POWER SCHOONER MANUWAI LAUNCHED IN LOCAL YARDS

Power schooner Manuwai, a pleasure craft owned by Joseph E. Parker, launched on estuary this morning.

Launchings have become a common thing on the local front. During the past month at least seven craft of the towboat class have been built, launched and are now running about in different parts on this coast. There vessels with the exception of the steam schooner Daisy Gadsby have been built for towing purposes only. This morning the yards of the Gorham Engineering Co., in East Oakland were the scene of the launching of the power schooner Manuwai.

The Manuwai is undoubtedly the most luxuriously fitted vessel ever built on this coast. She was built for Joseph E. Parker of Seattle, at the Gorham Engineering works. For the last two or three months a large force of trained mechanics, a number of whom were hired for the special purpose of decorating the interior cabins and the furnishing of the exterior trimmings, have been constantly at work on the little vessel.

She rode the water gracefully and easily. Being built not only for comfort but, also for speed the Manuwai presents a small floating palace. The launching of the Manuwai was completed at 1 o'clock this morning and promptly at that time the water tanks, etc., on the starboard side. On the opposite side are the bins, dressers and dish lockers.

The main saloon is 14 feet in length by the width of the boat. It is magnificently fitted out, finished in white enamel and mahogany trimmings and contains a dining table, lockers, book shelves, etc. Aft of this on the starboard side is the guest's stateroom. This room contains a double berth and clothes locker. Opposite on the port side is the bathroom, finished in white enamel. The owner's stateroom is next in line. It is unusually large, containing a double berth, divan, bureau and locker space.

Although fitted out on the lines of a king's yacht and built on the style of a racing yacht the Manuwai's hull is staunchly constructed, as she will be engaged in traversing the water of the north Pacific the greater part of the time.

Her planking is of fir. Frames are constructed of oak while the decking is of white pine. She is copper fastened throughout. She will carry a 10-foot power tender as well as a smaller dinghy.

In which the little vessel rode in the water.

The Manuwai is 75 feet in length with a beam of 15 feet. She has a draft of 5 feet and will be propelled by a 100-horsepower Gorham engine. She has a raised forecastle head and poop deck with glass trunk and pilot house. Her bow is full on deck with a very decided flare, well followed. The stern is of round steamship type and about the after end of the boat's waterline, the hull is embossed similar to transatlantic liners, heretofore not common on yachts. Her pilot house is constructed of teak with plate glass lights while the sides of the trunk which extend from the forecastle to the poop deck are of solid teak. The main saloon of the vessel is reached by going through the pilot house, a door being built on each side, thus making a double entry to the interior portion of the main cabin. The main saloon is well lighted and ventilated. The forecastle is arranged to accommodate the engineer and cook, having berths and cloth lockers. The galley aft of the forecastle extends the full width of the boat and is supplied with a cooking range, hot water tanks, etc., on the starboard side.

ACCUSES DEAD OF DODGING TAXES

Treasurer Declares That Von Rhein Went Abroad to Avoid Impost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—In a suit filed today by Treasurer John E. McDougall, the claim is made that Otto Von Rhein, a veteran real estate broker of this city, died of all of his property to his wife and went to Germany to die in order to avoid the payment of an inheritance tax. The case will come for hearing before Judge Morgan on Tuesday.

According to the allegation Von Rhein died of all of his estate, amounting to $250,000, to his wife, left here in May, 1908, for some medicinal springs in Germany and died June 11 of that same year. McDougall claims that his deceased of the property in the trust was in fact little more than the making of a will and he asks the court to determine the question of an inheritance tax.

OAKLAND BOYS' BAND TO PLAY ON STREETS

Beginning Saturday night the Oakland Boys' Club band will repel the Saturday night music in the business district of Oakland. This music is entertaining and attracts many down town who, however, are not permitted to come home. Weather permitting the band will give a concert Sunday afternoon at Chabot park, opposite the Oakland high school. The Oakland Boys' Club band is considered one of the best amateur bands in the state. The band is increasing in numbers.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER OF TWO

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 31.—Despairing of moral and spiritual regeneration, Jesus Yrigui, known as the "head man" of the "Bandidos" gang, pleaded guilty to murder and asked that he be hanged.

Yrigui was accused of having shot and killed Carlos Andrade and Jose Hernandez, Christmas night because they would not drink with him. The prisoner had daily visits from a clergyman and declared that the only hope for him was in heaven.

"I hope for me in this world," he said.

AUTO OVERTURNS WHILE OFFICIALS LAMP-GAZE

OMAHA, Jan. 31.—Councilman L. B. Johnson and City Light Inspector G. A. Scott were seriously hurt and four other city officials received painful injuries while on a tour of the city inspecting the street lights last night when their automobile was overturned.

PORTLAND, Jan. 31.—Charles E. Brown, a grocer, is dead from a shotgun wound which blew off his head, and his wife is seriously injured from a beating alleged to have been administered by her husband. The police are unable to determine whether Brown killed himself after beating his wife or Mrs. Brown killed her husband in self-defense. Mrs. Brown is in such a condition that she seems to be unable to make a statement.

PANAMA CANAL TO OPEN JULY 1, 1913

Congressman Madden Says First Deep Sea Craft Will Pass Then.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Congressman Martin B. Madden of Illinois, in an address before the Hamilton Club here, said that if the United States is ever to win the war with Japan, the conflict would come before the opening of the Panama Canal. He fixed July 1, 1913, as the date for the first ocean-going vessels to pass through the canal.

"In the interim, the United States must fortify the canal zone as impregnable as Gibraltar," he said. "Her other island possessions and Pacific coast ports also must be guarded. Not only that, but the United States must prevent Japanese from entering into any compact with South American powers whereby that country may gain a foothold near the canal zone."

"The expenditure of $375,000,000 in building the canal does not mean that the United States is to become a great ocean commerce power. The country never can become that unless we subside our ships. I don't believe that ever will be done. What the canal means, however, is the doubling of the efficiency of our navy and placing our nation in a position where no country can take possession of our Pacific ocean ports."

STUDENT TELLS ABOUT A REAL TURKEY TROT

That you can't judge a magazine by its title is demonstrated in the current issue of the Collegian of St. Mary's college. "A Turkey Trot" is the caption of a contribution by Leo A. Murasky. It is a story of a student of faculty wrath but the visions disappear when the story has been read. It is quite harmless and tells how a live turkey trotted around an apartment house prior to his capture.

Frank M. Silva, a graduate of St. Mary's college and a speaker at the last commencement, contributes an essay on "The Hope of the Nation" in this issue of the Collegian. The article is a plea for a nation that recognizes all the normal activities of the child.

"The Thirst for Speed" is Gerald J. Brusher's contribution to the time spirit symposium that Editor Doran has been conducting in the Collegian since the issue of the fall semester. Raymond Miller is present also, with a parody on Kipling's "Beat-troth."

Other contributions to the belated but excellent January Collegian are: Sylvester N. Andrade, Edgar T. Gleason, Richard L. Doran, Louis F. LeFevre, Thomas J. Horan and "George."

WINE AND CAKES WERE THEIR LOOT

Golden Pheasant Restaurant Robbed Across Bay; the Watchman Jailed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—With the alleged connivance of Watchman Herbert Cohlman, the Golden Pheasant restaurant at 34 Geary street, was robbed, early this morning, of a quantity of champagne, a number of cakes and a goodly supply of candy. Patrolmen Skelly and Cook were standing at Kearney and Clay streets, when they noticed two young men carrying a suitcase and acting suspiciously. They gave the names of Leonard Walsh and Elmer Jones, and on finding the champagne and other loot the officers arrested them.

In Jones' pocket was found a revolver and Walsh had a flash light and in the case was a blackjack. Returning to the Golden Pheasant with their prisoners the policemen found and arrested Cohlman, who, it is said, had let them in with his key. All three were booked at the city prison for petty larceny and an additional charge of carrying concealed weapons was placed against Jones.

W. F. Buck, Railroad Official, Dies With Tonsillitis When Near Hospital.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 31.—W. F. Buck, head of the mechanical department of the Santa Fe system, died at 12:30 o'clock this morning on a special train that was rushing him from Albuquerque, N. M., to Los Angeles for treatment. He had acute tonsillitis and died a few moments before the train reached this city. The remains were taken from the train here and will be sent to Chicago for interment.

The special train schedule exceeded in speed the famous "Death Valley special" operated for "Scotty" several years ago.

Buck was stricken last week at Albuquerque. The special bearing the remains reached here at 12:35 a. m., having run at the rate of 70 miles an hour to Pasadena reaching Los Angeles at 2 o'clock. Every passenger train was ordered to take siding for the special, which had been given the right of way over everything.

COLOMBIANS ARE HOOTED IN PANAMA

Government Agent Is Mark of Mob's Insults and Home Is Guarded.

PANAMA, Jan. 31.—A demonstration significant of the feeling existing in Panama against the Colombians was made last night in front of the residence of the confidential agent of Colombia. The incident had its origin in an article written to the Star and Herald by Antonio Zubieta, a prominent young Panamanian, in answer to an insulting article published recently in a Bogota newspaper against Panama. In response the confidential agent of Colombia here issued a fly sheet signed by himself and another Colombian and containing offensive remarks concerning Panama.

As a protest against his conduct hundreds of citizens gathered last night in front of the confidential agent's house, where they hooted Colombia and made a terrific din and cheered for Zubieta and for Panama.

No violence occurred, but Governor Paredez as a precaution ordered the police to disperse the crowd and placed a strong guard in the Colombian agent's residence.

A sentiment of strong indignation against the Colombians makes itself evident everywhere.

We Took his Advice

ONE of the six biggest men in the United States told us that we could do a real service by publishing the truth about corrupt judges.

This was two years ago. In the February number of Everybody's Magazine appears the first of a series of articles, by C. P. Connolly, entitled "Big Business and the Bench."

This is the outcome of that suggestion.

It will be denounced by many as muck-raking. It is muck raking. We want you to know in advance what kind of muck-raking it is.

Mr. Connolly's investigation shows that there is incompetency—corruption—miscarriage of justice, and that these faults are undermining the people's respect for their courts.

We want to respect judges. We hope that the publication of the truth will lead to that reform of the judiciary which is necessary.

The unjust judge should be drummed out of service. We intend that some of them shall be.

We MEAN to respect judges.

If you believe in this kind of muck-raking, lend a hand. We can't do anything alone.

If you pass by on the other side like the priest and the Levite in the parable, nothing will come of this effort; but if you read and think, and discuss, you will help hasten the day of just and equal laws for rich and poor.

We firmly believe that this is the most important magazine contribution to good government for years.

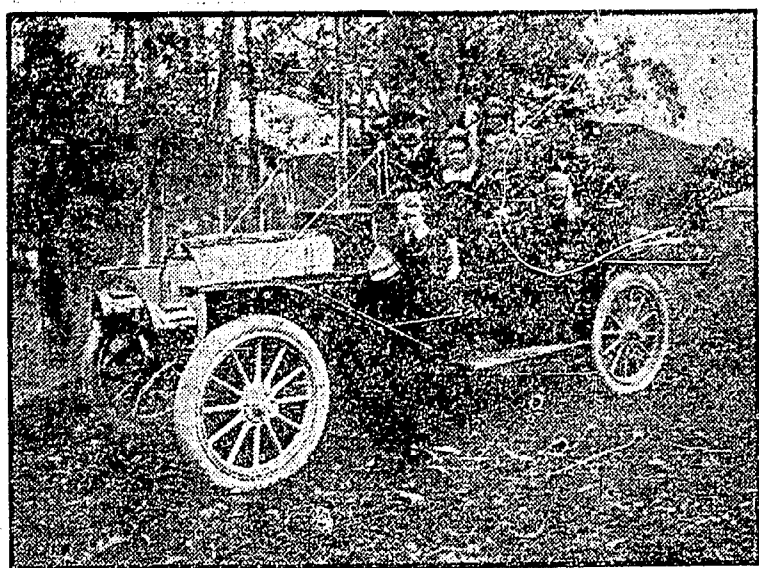

We ask you to do your part in making it effective.

Regal is Popular in Far-Off New Zealand

A carful of New Zealand "Kiddies." American automobiles are proving exceedingly popular in this far-off land. This Regal is the car that made possible the immense popularity which Regals enjoy on the islands.

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)
The exports of automobiles from this country to foreign ports has more than doubled each year for the last four. The present season will undoubtedly witness an even greater percentage of increase. Even far off New Zealand has taken to the auto with a zest and those manufactured in this country have been in the greatest demand in that section.
Of the American made cars, the Regal is said to lead in the number in use. The cut shows above depicts a number of the island kiddies taking advantage of an opportunity for a spin in one of that make of car. It is published by the courtesy of the Jones Auto Co. of this city.
One of the new cars to come to this city is the Paige Kenilworth 25-horsepower roadster, recently by the Auto Sales Co. The hood and running gear are finished in black and the doors and body in red. The lines are striking. For a low priced car, the features included make it worthy of the attention and inspection of prospective buyers for the runabout type of car.

WARREN CAR STILL RUNNING.
The five thousand-mile post will soon be reached by the Warren Wolverine. By six o'clock tonight the car will have passed the 4300 mile mark. It is still running with a consistency that indicates success. Failure—the drivers don't even think of. As the time wears on they become more cautious than at the outset of the attempt to lower the present world's record.

BUICK TRAIN LOAD EN ROUTE.
The trainload of Buick cars now on the way to California are creating a great deal of interest and comment along the route. G. H. McCutcheon, local manager of the Howard-Automobile Co., is in receipt of dispatches each night from various points along the route and the tenor of them indicates that even in the wintry sections of the middle west, the snow and ice-bound automobile folk leave the warm fireside long enough to greet the immense trainload of cars as it passes through each city.

TAKES HAYNES LIMOUSINE.
W. S. Rheem, one of the leading Standard Oil officials on the Pacific coast, has purchased through Ray Elliott, local manager of the Haynes Auto Co., a magnificent seven passenger, model T. Haynes Limousine. The exterior finish of the car is of a beautiful golden brown shade. The interior is finished in a tan plush whipcord and the ceiling and the drivers compartment and wind sashes are a well polished black walnut.

F. M. Avery, of this city, has taken a model 20 Haynes 35-horsepower roadster.

MORE STODDARDS COMING.
Manager Shuman, of the Standard Motor Car Co., in this city has received advice from W. L. Hughes, head of this company, who is now in the east, to the effect that he has concluded arrangements for the shipment of 250 Stoddard-Daytons for spring delivery. He has also secured a large allotment of the well known Courier car. They will make their initial appearance in San Francisco within a short time. The Courier was formerly known as the "Bison." This season marked the change in name.

Before returning Hughes will spend some days in Chicago looking over the motor car and accessory situation there.

FLANDERS ELECTRIC COMING.
A Flanders Colonial Electric Coupe was shipped by express from the Pontiac factory on the 23, and will arrive here about the middle of this week.

"We have been much disappointed in the matter of shipments on the Flanders Electric," states Mr. Morris, of the Pioneer Automobile company, the Northern California agents for the car. "However, they are now ready, and we are hurrying out a demonstrator, by express."

"All cars shipped to this coast will be specially equipped to meet the conditions in this territory, especially as regards hills. We have extra power, extra battery capacity, and extra brakes."

"The Flanders will be a revelation to a great many people. Claims unheard of heretofore, in connection with electric cars, have been made for it both as to construction and performance, and we have been impatient for an opportunity to substantiate them, but we will do all that—and then some. Wonderful things have been accomplished in the automobile industry, but its history reveals no instance where at a single stride such noticeable advancement has been made as is evidenced in the Flanders Electric."

50 CARS OF AUTOS ON WAY TO STATE

The Largest Single Shipment of Machines Will Be Distributed in State.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—A special train of fifty double-deck cars of automobiles—a larger single shipment than has ever been made to any three states—is now on its way to the state of California over the Southern Pacific lines. This special train, which left Flint, Mich., last Thursday morning, contains 230 automobiles of various designs, aggregating a total value of $309,000.

California is buying automobiles by the train load while the East and Middle West are crying panic and hard times. It is one of the best evidences of the prosperity of California that has been advertised throughout the country in many years," said a prominent state official when informed of the departure of the shipment.

A special representative of the Southern Pacific and of the Howard Automobile Company of San Francisco have arranged to accompany this train during the entire trip. This special will be run on a daylight schedule over the lines of the Grand Trunk, Rock Island, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and will be open for inspection at the important towns throughout the journey. In the Middle West the train will carry banners advertising the fact that California is the only state in the union which ever assimilated such a shipment of automobiles. Every person who views this train en route will be impressed seriously with the fact that there is wealth in California. Every possible means of advertising California by this train across the continent will be utilized by the Southern Pacific.

These 230 automobiles will be insured in California for $250,000 and a license of $5 for each machine will be paid to the state before delivery to purchasers. Seventeen carloads of these machines are destined to Los Angeles, while the remainder will be

"BABY ROSE" IS BRIDE AND HER MOTHER IS MOURNING

Pretty Cafe Singer Weds Clubman, But Blessing Is Not Forthcoming.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—The silvery notes of Miss Abbie Silver, the pretty little singer at Taft's restaurant, have with the heart of "Baby Rose" Engelhardt, broke up her operatic career and inspired an exciting elopement to Redwood City last Monday which has broken her mother's heart.

The petite songbird fluttered from the maternal nest at the Berkeley apartments with the excuse that she was on her way to rehearsal at the cafe. Instead she met young Engelhardt and accompanied him to Redwood City, where they were married in the afternoon.

Mrs. Silver, ill with anxiety at her daughter's unexplained absence, did not learn of the marriage until late that evening. Engelhardt broke the startling news to her over the telephone.

"Abbie and I were married," he said, and paused for the parental blessing. It did not come.

Mrs. Silver was thunderstruck, grieved, angry all at once. She had made every arrangement to take "Baby Rose" to New York on the first of next month. Francis Stewart had promised to complete Abbie's education for grand opera. George Ade had offered to assist her up the ladder of fame, and if she wished, there was a place waiting in the choir for her to sit.

But all these splendid plans were nipped in the bud by young Engelhardt. According to Mrs. Silver, he knew all about the contemplated trip east, and promised to wait until "Baby Rose" was well launched on her operatic career before he so much as mentioned marriage.

The voice and beauty of "Baby Rose," however, filled him with longing. Rather than run the danger of losing her to some rival in Gotham, he thrust aside all plans for a career and led her away to the altar. The young couple left last night for Sacramento and will go to Chicago, where Engelhardt's parents live.

Engelhardt is vice-president of the Wright-Engelhardt company of this city and is well known in club and commercial circles. His father is a retired capitalist in Chicago and Engelhardt is reputed to have wealth in his own name.

Confesses Murder

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—With an eleven-hour confession that it was she, who stabbed Charles Muldoon, Mrs. Theresa Martin, 22 years old, brought to the city, where Engelhardt's parents live.

The victim, who was Mrs. Martin's former sweetheart, was killed in a saloon in March, 1911. Muldoon died in the West and, after being captured in Denver, it was his confession that she confessed the murder.

The sister unexpectedly appeared in court and confessed to a guilty knowledge. Yesterday Mrs. Martin testified that she had quarreled with Muldoon and went to her home for a breakfast. Promises of the prosecutor and the judge for immunity failed to persuade her to continue her story, until finally she was asked:

"Who drove the knife through Muldoon's heart?"

"I did," she replied, "I did it."

Weds Her First

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 31.—Miss Mina Griffin, the woman who is alleged to have associated with Charles Dean, said to be a member of the gang who robbed the bank of the Westminister, B. C. and secured $25,000, was married here last night to her former husband, William Griffin, a barber of this city.

Two years ago the Griffins were divorced at Tacoma, Wash. Mrs. Griffin being given custody of the children. When Dean was recently arrested in Los Angeles, Mrs. Griffin was closely questioned. Her trunk and other baggage were searched by the police in their efforts to secure evidence against the suspected bank robber, and Mrs. Griffin was shadowed to San Diego.

Wife Will Fight

RENO, Nev., Jan. 31.—Bernice Purcell came all the way from Pasadena to fight the divorce case instituted by Francis J. Purcell, a former surgeon in the United States army, who has been in Nevada obtaining a residence.

Mrs. Purcell came here fortified with papers issued in Mexico under the seal of the government showing where her husband agreed to a separation and the payment of $75 per month toward the support of herself and their 5-year-old boy. She says that he is $300 in arrears and in the examination held today before Judge Moran he admitted that the money which he had sent her had gone through an agent in San Francisco.

Pressed for the name of the agent he admitted it was Lisa Agnes Hildyard, a nurse, who he said to be his affinity in the case.

The wife is fighting the divorce to prevent him marrying the woman in San Francisco.

Dumb 15 Years; Talks

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 31.—After being speechless for fifteen years Mrs. Charles Curtiss, wife of a rancher of Carpinteria, now can talk.

Mrs. Curtiss regained her voice Saturday evening just as suddenly as it left her. She was sitting at the dinner table when she felt a strange itching in her throat, and, surmising the truth of the situation, she rushed to the toilet. Sitting at the piano she started the members of her family by singing a melody that was her favorite song when a child.

Her husband was more than startled for he had missed it ever since his marriage that he had a wife who could not get in that "last word," and now he declares that the joke is on him.

The Beauty of Poise

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

PERSONS who use their minds always have poise. It is only the thoughtless ones who offend. The rattle-brained talker is an absolute nuisance at large. What a refreshing sensation it is to meet a quiet, self-controlled, clever woman or man; one who can look steadily at a situation and wait. One great fault of the American man or woman is the lack of repose. We all do too much at a time, or rather too many things at a time. If we could only wait to finish one thing before starting upon another we would be much happier. But we must rush at our goal, rarely ever straight and direct, but generally stopping for something on the way, disconcerting our original intentions. The poise of looking straight ahead, awaiting opportunity with relaxation, refreshes and reinforces the mind for greater thoughts and expressions. The persons who think twice before speaking generally say something sensible and clever when they do speak. Give your mind a chance to decide upon what course to take and it will, as a rule, decide for your best. I have heard men who were considered clever say: "Make a person answer quickly by frightening him and he will tell the truth."

A man may do so, but I am sure a woman would not. If a woman is hurried and frightened into answering quickly any vital question she will invariably answer at random and probably be accused of telling an untruth, which may be a fact much to her subsequent embarrassment. Whereas, give a woman time to think before she decides to speak, and she will at least be logical. In many cases she will outwit the cleverest man. Bliss Carman says in his "Winged Victory": "The practical advantage of poise and its chief sanction is the opportunity it affords for spiritual precedence." That is true in the case of woman. She will always think the highest if given the time. Therefore, how necessary it is to a woman who wants to appear at her best to take herself in hand and take time to think out her problem first, know her desires, then carefully, trustfully go about her business of realizing them, losing nothing in the deliberation but anxiety and ill temper.

What a poor example of her sex is the restless, giggling, gesticulating woman! If she thinks that she is attractive, let her look around at her really attractive sister, who is quiet, intelligently restful, who she knows enough to be dependable; who never laughs except when she is amused; who keeps her hands quiet and her eyes steadfast. Such a woman is a wonderful friend and companion; her beauty is the beauty of culture, refinement and intelligence. She takes time to breathe deeply and develops physically. Remember, the woman who cultivates poise simplifies living.

A CONSTANT READER.—A girl of 15 years, 5 feet in height, should not wear dresses above her shoe tops; ankle length is pretty. The prettiest colors to wear for a girl who has dark gray eyes and brown hair are light blue, violet, light gray, rose color, and light tan.

Brush the hair thoroughly, after rubbing a little vasoline into the scalp with the tips of the fingers, to remove dandruff. Liquid green soap applied to all blackheads and left on fifteen minutes at a time should draw them out without rubbing. I think that a greasy, shiny complexion can be improved by the use of plenty of cold water.

CLARA—I think the old-fashioned kid curlers give a pretty wave to the hair. Do not use a curling iron on your hair. I am sending you the formula for a good curling fluid. Dampen the hair with the fluid before doing it up and it will stay in curl for a couple of days.

EMILY W.—Wearing long earrings is matter of taste. I have written my opinion on the wearing of jewels in a Sunday article of December 17, 1911. The style of wearing long earrings is prevalent in Paris and New York at the present time, and is becoming to women with long necks and sloping shoulders.

Women Peace Officers

FRESNO, Jan. 31.—Superior Judge H. Z. Austin yesterday appointed a score of prominent society women to be peace officers in the interests of the County Humane Society. Among those thus authorized to wear a star and carry arms are the following: Mrs. G. H. Alken, wife of a prominent physician; Mrs. Truman Hart, wife of the police commissioner and oil magnate; Mrs. Chester H. Rowell, wife of the president of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League; Mrs. L. L. Cory, Mrs. E. H. Welsh, Mrs. C. L. McLane, Mrs. Arthur Goodfellow and others.

Two Claim Estate

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Bertha M. Pedrotti yesterday filed in the superior court here the obitographic will of her mother, Mrs. Hattie B. Wilson, dated February 9, 1910, naming the petitioner sole devisee of an estate valued at about $20,000.

Later in the day Daniel S. Bryant, the aged father of Mrs. Wilson, filed for probate a will dated February 18, 1910, leaving the entire estate to him. The petition for probate of this last named will places the value of the estate at about $20,000. Bryant is a pioneer of this city and his son was curator of the San Francisco Academy of Science prior to his death.

During an illness some time ago, when it was believed that Bryant could not recover, his property was deeded to his daughter, and when he recovered no change was made in the title, hence the present tangle. Mrs. Wilson died suddenly in San Francisco last week.

Girl Stolen

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—After listening to the testimony of Mrs. Carrie Wright of 1025 Steiner street, to the effect that her daughter Dorothy had been stolen by Walter L. Bunge, a moving picture operator, Superior Judge Graham granted an annulment yesterday. The girl, who is only 15 years old, was given a long dress by her prospective husband, aged 18, a neighbor did up her hair and she fled on September 13 and was married.

Objects to Wandering

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Because she was forced to wander from place to place and seldom sheltered twice by the same roof, Mrs. Anna Sobelman filed suit for divorce against Ida Sobelman. Ever since the marriage of the couple in Chicago, according to the wife, her husband, has moved from place to place and house to house.

Estate is $250,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Nellie F. Flournoy, the wife of John Flournoy, the prominent local attorney who died recently, yesterday applied for letters of administration over his estate, which amounts to a quarter of a million dollars. Flournoy was counsel for the D. O. Mills estate and for other wealthy citizens of the community.

BURNS SQUELCHED IN THE LORIMER HEARING

TOLD TO KEEP TEMPER IN CHECK

Shouts His Reputation for the Benefit of Senatorial Commission.

Questions Too Involved and He Objects to Haney's Reason.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Detective William J. Burns testified before the Lorimer Senatorial Investigating Committee today and furnished a mild sensation when he engaged in verbal battle with Attorney Haney, representing Senator Lorimer. The exchanges of words between the men became so sharp that Chairman Dillingham intervened frequently.

The detective testified the committee's attorneys had employed him on July 11, 1911, to work on the case and particularly on the testimony of Charles McGowan. He continued until about October 26. Then a representative of the Chicago Tribune employed him about Christmas to continue the work, he said.

McGowan had testified he was on a train when C. E. Wiley, in the presence of "a young Canadian" was alleged by William Burgess of Duluth, Minn., to have told about a $100,000 Lorimer election fund. McGowan testified as to the Canadian and said he was on the train but heard no such talk.

TELLS OF TRIP.

Burns told of a trip to Canada to get young McGowan to come to Washington to testify again. He talked to McGowan's father, he said, about the matter, referring to his son having "perjured himself."

"The father objected and called me a liar," said Burns.

Senator Dillingham wanted to know why Burns thought the committee needed help in getting McGowan to appear a second time.

"Don't you know your services were discontinued by the committee because nothing had been accomplished?" inquired Senator Dillingham.

Burns said he supposed his services had been discontinued because of lack of funds.

Fire flew when Attorney Haney for the defense began cross-examination. "I think my reputation compares with yours and is even better. I'll hand you every time," shouted Burns in reply to one of Haney's remarks.

FIREWORKS FLY.

A moment later Burns complained a question "was involved."

"It may be to some minds," said Haney.

"Now you keep on—," Burns began to warn the attorney as he stood forward.

"This has got to stop," shouted Chairman Dillingham.

"If the committee will direct the witness to answer—," began Judge Haney.

"We have. The committee will take care of itself."

Burns denied he was employed to work on the Lorimer case generally, but as he understood, only on the McGowan feature and to locate witnesses.

Recess interrupted the warfare between the detective and the attorney.

MAINE'S WRECK CITY TO GREET DUMPED IN OCEAN

Third of Ill-Fated Battleship Is Dropped Into Deep Waters of Gulf.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—General Bixby, chief of engineers of the army, brings from Havana the report that unless unforeseen difficulties are experienced all that is left of the old battleship Maine will be floated out of Havana harbor by March 1 and sunk in the deep waters of the Gulf of Mexico, a few miles off the north coast of Cuba.

General Bixby says about a third of the ship—all that part forward of the rent which severed the bow section—has been dumped into the sea without attracting attention. The metal was cut up by an acetylene jet into half-ton fragments, which were placed in scows and deposited about a mile off shore.

TURKEY AS MONUMENT.

The after turret of the ship has been unbolts from the deck and is ready for transfer to the shore. It has been given to the city of Havana and is to be erected as a monument in a public park. One of the masts is now at Governor's Island and the other aboard the collier Justin, awaiting transportation to the National Cemetery at Arlington, where it will be placed over the graves of the victims of the Maine.

When the wreck finally is floated out to sea, with ceremony and in the presence of a distinguished company, the coffers will be removed and nothing visible will be left in Havana harbor to mark the scene of the great catastrophe.

Deeply imbedded in the mud at the bottom of the harbor will lie the inverted turret of the ship with its ten-inch guns, which it is not thought worth while to raise.

Cincinnati Police Will Be On Receiving Line, With Chief in Lead.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 31.—Having the unsolicited "honor" of a national "hobo" convention thrust upon the city, the municipal authorities are making extensive preparations to receive their unbidden guests. Foremost in the receiving line when the delegates begin to drop from the brakebeams of freight cars tomorrow will be Chief of Police William Jackson, assisted by a bevy of stalwart policemen who have been instructed to see that the visitors are given rides in patrol automobiles to the nearest police stations.

They are next scheduled to call upon Police Court Judge Arthur Frick, who will extend the hospitality of the city work house to them for a more or less extended period.

The convention is under the personal direction of J. Eads Howe, "the millionaire hobo" of St. Louis, and is scheduled to last four days with the opening session tomorrow. Howe is at present in the city and is endeavoring to find lodgings for 300 delegates.

"If there is any hobo convention to be held in this city it will be in the city workhouse," declared Mayor Henry T. Hunt.

KILLS HIMSELF.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 31.—While his wife, son and daughter were attending a dance last night, Gus Klein, proprietor of a butchershop, and an old resident of Spokane, committed suicide by taking poison. His body was found lying on the bed when Mrs. Klein returned home shortly after midnight. Klein was a member of several fraternal orders. No reason is known for his act.

NIP JAPANESE PLAN TO BUY TERRITORY

Nippon's Eye on Lower California and U. S. Acts Just in Time.

International Complication Is Threatened if Colony Is Founded in South.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Plans for turning over to a Japanese syndicate a strip of land 500 miles long and sixteen miles wide in Lower California including the harbors of Magdalena Bay, Turtle Bay and other strategic locations with a view of founding a colony on the coast of 20,000 Japanese, perhaps were frustrated last night by the state department who notified the parties who were carrying on the negotiations for the deal that international complications might arise and that the United States would not approve of the sale.

John E. Blackman of Los Angeles, president of the Chartered Company of Lower California, J. Morgan Roland, a New York capitalist and clubman; William L. Holland, a land salesman in Blackman's employ; Ota Noda and K. Abiko, representing the Japanese syndicate, met yesterday at the Stewart Hotel, and arrangements progressed so far that Abiko said he was ready to turn over the first payment as soon as the Chartered Company should be in a position to make over the fishing concession.

FISHING TRUST.

Ota Noda is manager of the American Land and Product Company, said to be another name for the Japanese fishing trust. The fishing concession is owned by a Spaniard named Sandoval who resides in Los Angeles. He was given the concession as a favor from the Mexican government. It is understood that the owner is at the same time dicker with a French company for turning over the fishing rights and that in the meantime the deal with the Japanese was held up.

The rights are extremely valuable as it is claimed to contain valuable salmon, sardine and shark oil products there is fine water and the land itself is very fertile.

Noda, Holland Blackman and experts have recently returned from looking over the ground. Abiko reported favorably on the proposition to Noda upon the latter's arrival in the city Monday.

International complication is threatened if such a Japanese colony be founded in Lower California. With such harbors as Magdalena Bay and the bay of San Francisco, and a thriving colony, over five hundred miles of land, the Japanese would hold a position of great strategic importance.

U. S. OBJECTS.

To this the United States government objects and steps, according to Washington dispatches, will be taken immediately to put a stop to the negotiations. It was said yesterday in Washington that, should the United States take such action, it would be backed up by the Japanese government, which desires no international complication of such a kind at the present time.

The state department was officially notified yesterday that the promoters of the scheme proposed to establish a colony of 20,000 Japanese in Lower California. Orders were immediately issued to notify the projectors of the land deal that, if it be established that an agreement of any sort exists between the governments of Mexico, in whose territory the tract of land is situated, and Japan, the United States will forbid the establishment of a colony on the grounds that it is in violation of the Monroe doctrine.

DENIES THE RUMOR.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—Foreign Minister Manuel Galarza says there is no foundation for the story that a deal had been contemplated for the granting of a fishing monopoly by the Mexican government to a Japanese fishing syndicate, while the allotment of a large tract of land in Lower California also is denied.

KILL WOMAN'S LABOR LAW.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 31.—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday held to be unconstitutional the state law limiting the labor of women to nine hours per day or fifty-four hours a week. Women employes in factories, laundries, department stores and all other places under state regulation are affected.

CHURCHMAN DIES.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 31.—J. M. Haughey, an elder in the Christian church for many years, died last night at his home in Mason City of Bright's disease. BERKELEY GOSSIP OF STUDENTS AND RESIDENTS IN THE UNIVERSITY TOWN AND HAPPENINGS OF DAY IN THE ISLAND CITY, SOCIAL AND PERSONAL ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA POUND IS NOT TO BE MOVED

Lack of Finances Causes City to Turn Down Bay Farm Island Offer.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 31.—Lack of finances caused the city council last night to reject a proposition to move the city pound from Mound street to Bay Farm Island. S. F. Scott, a hog raiser, who has been ordered by the health department to move his hogs from the limits of Alameda, offered to transfer the city his lease of a Bay Farm Island tract of 18 acres, which he leases from a woman now living at Monterey, for $50 a year. Scott, however, wanted the city to also purchase his improvements valued at $925. The pound will remain on Mound street for the present.

During the consideration of the matter it developed that Scott went into the hog-raising business on the intensive farming idea. He leased eighteen acres of marsh land and figured on feeding the hogs from the garbage dumped near by by garbage wagons. The scheme figured well on paper, but didn't cash in as per expectations.

Besides the cost of improvements the city would have to build a serviceable road. Councilman Fred L. Krumb, the pound owner, said a temporary summer road could be constructed for $300. City Engineer T. N. Chapman reported that a permanent road would cost between $4000 and $5000. It was decided to have the finance committee make an appropriation in the next budget to purchase a suitable site.

The pound at present is in the center of Mound street. For years an effort has been made to secure a new site for the pound.

SUES TO RECOVER SUM PAID FOR ISLAND LAND

Charging Joseph Fessler and J. Hay Smith and W. H. Dickey, his agents, with misrepresentation in a deal, J. F. Brevort this morning instituted suit in the Superior Court for the cancellation of a real estate contract and judgment covering money he alleges he paid to them on account and expended upon the assurance that the land was suitable for farming. The suit was instituted against a certain tract of land on Sherman Island in the Sacramento river.

Plaintiff alleges that it was represented he could raise enough money to pay the balance of the purchase price thereof, or $4800.20. All of these representations, together with other of a similar character, have proved to be false and he has been unable to raise the money.

Brevort sets up that in the purchase he assigned to Fessler an equity in Oakland real estate and paid a difference of $1360.10 in cash for the Sherman Island tract. He also alleges that he expended $1154 in endeavoring to farm and cultivate the land, for which he also seeks judgment, or a total of $1514.10.

A similar suit was instituted against these defendants in the Superior Court last Saturday by another purchaser of Sherman Island property on the identical grounds alleged by Brevort.

BOGUS INSPECTORS OF PLUMBING ARE BUSY

ALAMEDA, Jan. 31.—A gang of old-time plumbing inspectors is being worked in Alameda. Last night, after dark, two well dressed men appeared at the C. P. Mrs. Longley refused them admittance and the men left after considerable argument as to their right to enter the house.

The local lodge has been in existence only since September 19, 1911, when it was formed with thirty charter members. Its membership is now in the neighborhood of 100, and its phenomenal growth has resulted in the plans for a permanent home.

L. Abbott, A. C. Lang, A. H. Burnett, Fred C. Schramm, E. M. Downer (Pinole), W. T. Helms, M. L. Fernandez (Pinole), E. M. Tilden and H. V. Tuller.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Jimmie Lawlor is to have another trial on Monday and incidentally the charges made that a juror was tampered with are to be fully investigated by the district attorney, who will place the evidence in the hands of the grand jurors. Today Police Judge Shortall issued an order for fifty jurors to be in court on Monday for the second trial of Lawlor, who is accused of striking Ada Fulton, a pretty Sacramento girl, whose real name is Henrietta Bregagne.

Benjamin Cotton, one of the jurors, informed Judge Shortall that Lawlor had followed him from the court room and had said to him: "Stick out till 4 o'clock in the morning."

The result of the jury's deliberations was a failure to agree, the members standing seven to five for conviction.

TRUCE IN ROW OVER GIRL'S PROMOTION

Gertrude Rosenthal Transferred to Different School Following Charges.

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—Charges of Mrs. Rosenthal that her daughter Gertrude had been terrified and denied promotion by Miss Loretta Shaw a teacher in the Washington school, were again taken up by the board of education last night, and compromise action was taken. The request that the child be transferred to Louise Conner school was granted, but promotion was withheld.

Miss Shaw made a statement in which she declared that she was not aware of the Rosenthal girl's being afraid of her, as charged, and she maintained her position that the pupil was not entitled to promotion.

Miss Anna Patterson, supervisor of elementary schools, said she was present at the time the children of Miss Shaw's class were being examined. She promoted and she noted that three of the pupils, Mrs. Rosenthal's child among them, were not competent to be put in a higher class.

"It can safely say that the child was given a fair chance and I can also say that Gertrude did not appear at any time to be afraid of her teacher," she added.

Principal Monroe of the Washington school, said it was reported to him that several pupils, including Gertrude Rosenthal, were not able to advance from Miss Shaw's class, and he stated that Miss Shaw told him she would be glad to give the children her personal attention if they returned to her class for another year.

"Two of the pupils returned and are getting along nicely in their school work," said Monroe.

COMPLAINANT SPEAKS

Director Stern asked that Mrs. Rosenthal be given an opportunity to speak. She said: "This meeting strikes me as being a comedy. I feel that no matter what I say or do I cannot get justice for my child from this board. Mr. Stern is the only member who seems to want to give me justice. But I am speaking about promotion a few weeks before the term ended. Gertrude, I know you are not coming back, and you will not be promoted."

ASK BUNKER'S DISMISSAL

The Longfellow Improvement club sent a communication to the board protesting against the re-appointment of City Superintendent of Schools Frank F. Bunker. It was stated in the communication that Bunker is incompetent.

After it was ignored, the communication and after it was discussed by Chairman Morgan asked: "Is that the end of the fireworks?"

The report of the finance committee shows that during the month of January the teachers' salaries in the elementary schools totaled $18,974.93 and in the high schools $23,343.43. Outgoing expenses during the month were $6,633.33, leaving a balance of $35,684.03. High school $7581.63.

PRISONER'S WIFE TELLS PATHETIC STORY TO POLICE

ALAMEDA, Jan. 31.—From out of the seemingly sordid and commonplace narrative of the arrest of a shoemaker on a charge of failing to provide for his minor children, comes a pathetic story from the shoemaker's wife, a story that has been told to the police by a woman who is a stranger in a strange land, married a man who promised to support her and her own relatives gave her the impossible choice of paying $14 a week board, or marrying the man who owned a house and had some money besides.

The shoemaker is Domenico Zurlo, for whom the Alameda police have been searching the last ten days. He was arrested under the direction of Captain Sock of the Oakland police when Domenico was caught begging in front of the Oakland Associated Charities headquarters at 808 Broadway.

He was brought to the Alameda city prison where he is held in default of $400 bail. The charge was made by Secretary M. J. White of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Domenico formerly had a shoe shop on Willow street, near Lincoln avenue. He has five children, the eldest seven and the youngest eight months.

Mrs. Domenico, still young and coming with the big dark eyes and appealing features of her sunny Italy, told the police today the story of her mispent married life and the causes which led her as a young girl to marry Domenico against her feminine intuition which warned her Domenico was not the man she should marry.

"We were married eight years ago in Los Angeles," said Mrs. Domenico. "Just after I came from Italy, I was living with my aunt and she urged me to marry Domenico. I knew he was a hot man and I did not want to marry him. My aunt said he had a house and some money and he promised me a good home. I still hung back and then my aunt forced me to marry him by telling me I would either have to become Domenico's bride or pay her $11 a week board money. I could not pay, the aunt could not then speak English and he could not then go, so I married him."

LOSES $11,512 SUIT AGAINST BREUNER CO.

After a bitter legal contest that lasted several days, H. Davis this morning lost his suit for personal damages against the Breuner Company and G. B. Hollenbeck in the Superior Court. Judge Everett J. Brown found for defendants on the ground that the evidence showed that plaintiff was equally guilty with defendant in contributing negligence to bring about the accident in which he was injured.

While crossing the street on the evening of August 19, 1910, at Tenth street and Broadway, Davis was struck by an automobile driven by Hollenbeck, who was outside salesman for the John Breuner Company. His left leg was broken in two places and his right leg broken in one place. He was taken to the hospital and after a long and painful recovery, he was discharged on January 10.

Davis sued for $15,112 exemplary damages, making a total judgment of $11,512. The testimony given in the trial was contradictory as to whether or not in his attempt to cross the street Davis exercised necessary precautions, and it was on this point that Judge Brown dismissed the suit today.

He looks well in his picture. You know, a man always looks well when he wants to get married.

In his first venture for a while, it was a dry run and Domenico did well, only he went to Santa Barbara a couple of times a month to get drunk. When two voices and advice from his father and mother came to him, he began to drink harder than ever. I am a dressmaker and did what I could to help out. We lived on Willow street, seven of us. Two black robes and a pair of pants went away. A lady came with a pair of shoes to be repaired. I told her about his being gone and of our circumstances and she told me to go to the police. My husband arrested.

"I hate to think of him being in jail because I would hate to see even a dog shut up in a prison. I would like to see him alone. I would like it if he was sent out of the country. He wants to return to me but I don't want him, for no woman can meet a man of him. I am sorry I ever met him."

UNIQUE DICKENS ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN

MISS WINIFRED BANGS.

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The most novel and elaborate Dickens entertainment ever given in Berkeley will take place next Wednesday evening, February 1, in celebration of the centenary of the English author's birth. It will be held in Berkeley High school auditorium. Prof. Henry Morse Stephens will deliver an address on the life, character and writings of Dickens, and prominent society men and women of Berkeley and Oakland will appear in tableaux representing Dickens characters.

Those who attend will find themselves in the realm of Dickens from the moment they enter the auditorium and are shown to their seats by women ushers representing characters in Dickens' novels.

A string orchestra from Oakland will play old English ballads of Dickens' time.

Then Micawber, the talkative, will step right out of the pages of "David Copperfield" and begin his duties as master of ceremonies, introducing the tableaux and accounting for most of the oratory of the evening. The introduction of the man who was always "waiting for something to turn up" is an original idea of Miss Winifred Bangs, of this city, a well known clubwoman and member of the collegiate alumnae, who is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

CHILDREN IN FOLK DANCES

The child characters from Dickens, attired in appropriate costumes, will give English folk dances of Dickens' time. There will be three scenes represented by older actors, in which there will be dialogue, and twenty tableaux, which will remind the spectator of reading an illustrated volume of Dickens.

After the entertainment there will be old-fashioned as well as modern dances, in which the audience will take part, with Micawber as floor manager.

The committee in charge of the evening is as follows: Winifred Bangs, chairman; Miss Frances Woolsey, Dr. Frederick W. Dade, Dr. and Mrs. Seeno B. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. George Castor and Mrs. A. O. Donogh.

These will appear as Dickens characters: Charles Brock, James Fisk, Miss C. F. Wiggins, Miss E. Powell, Miss Alice Pike, Mrs. C. M. Foster, Miss Marion Berger, Prof. and Mrs. R. S. Holway, Robert Baird, John Miller, J. O. Matthias, Percy R. M. Jenkin, Prof. and Mrs. Edwin Lea, Miss Ruby Morse, Selden Smith, Dr. W. F. Dade, Miss Frances Woolsey, Miss Douglas Whitehead, Miss Ethel Downing, Miss Pearl Downing, Arthur Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wedgewood and Warren Allen.

The Exchange is the body that is to be replaced by the new rates, which have been in effect for several months past to have the rates reduced, alleging that the underwriters promised to do so on the installation of the new rate system and other modern fire fighting apparatus. The new publication will give the rates scheduled by the underwriters and if they are not agreeable to the Exchange that body has declared its intention of advising its members to insure in non-board companies.

TO MOVE FLAGPOLE

The committee consisting of H. N. Brown and Wilbur Walker appointed to confer with the commissioners over the removal of the flagpole at the intersection of Telegraph avenue and Broadway reported that the pole was to be displaced by a fountain and was further instructed by the Exchange to appear before and urge the commissioners to have the pole removed.

The pole was originally erected through the efforts of the Exchange and the Fourth of July committee, and was dedicated by the Exchange in 1904. It was then dedicated by the Exchange in 1904. It was then dedicated by the Exchange in 1904.

LEAVES TO JOIN PRINCESS HASSAN

The Mother of Former Ola Humphrey to Pay Visit to Daughter.

The Princess Ibrahim Hassan, formerly Ola Humphrey, the actress of this city, will not come to Oakland after all. Instead her mother, Mrs. J. Humphrey, who has been living at 1155 Jackson street, left last night to join her daughter in New York and will stay with her until the princess returns to England in the near future.

The visit of the princess and former actress to this city was anticipated with a great deal of interest here, where the beautiful Ola Humphrey was well known both in her private and professional capacity. Her marriage last summer to Prince Ibrahim Hassan, cousin of the Khedive of Egypt, considered one of the most brilliant matrimonial ventures of years, added to the romance of her career, which was only heightened when a few months later the princess abruptly left her rich and handsome husband, declaring her intention of suing for a separation.

Last December the princess arrived in New York, and announced that she would leave soon for Oakland to visit her mother and brother, Orval Humphrey, an actor in the Liberty company. These plans have been changed in the declaration of Mrs. Humphrey.

"My daughter will not come to the Pacific coast on this visit," the princess' mother said just before leaving. "She is going back to her husband, and if he does not let her visit, I shall spend some time with him in New York and other places in the east, where we will visit with friends. Then she will go back to London and I shall come back to Oakland. Further than this I cannot discuss our plans."

It is understood the princess will return to the stage following her unfortunate matrimonial venture.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Diapiesin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour feelings, no belching of undigested food, no nausea, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling.

The stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

After five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.

903 MILES OF ICE USED IN SEASON

Fruit Shipping Season Makes Demands of Ice Crop That Is Startling.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Sufficient ice to make an iceberg that would knock the corners off the Golden Gate if it were brought into San Francisco bay was used in California by the Pacific Fruit express company, the refrigerator car service of the Hardiman lines, during the fruit shipping season ending October 31, 1911. This same supply of ice, were each cake placed end to end, would cover a stretch of 903 miles long and 22 inches wide. The Pacific Fruit express used in this State last year 1,497,433 cakes of ice, each 33 inches long, 22 inches wide and 11 inches in thickness.

The weight of all of this ice totals 220,115 tons, each cake weighing 300 pounds. If it were melted it would equal 75,588,374 gallons of water, sufficient to supply a small town for an entire year. If this ice, were loaded into freight cars, it would average capacity and made into one train it would require 11,066 cars, which would cover a distance of about 92 miles, or about the same distance as that between San Francisco and Sacramento on the Southern Pacific. Of the 220,115 tons of ice used in California last year by the Pacific Fruit Express, 134,445 tons were manufactured at the Colton and Roseville plants. The remainder comprises small lots that are purchased in towns where the company has no plant, part of it being naturally frozen.

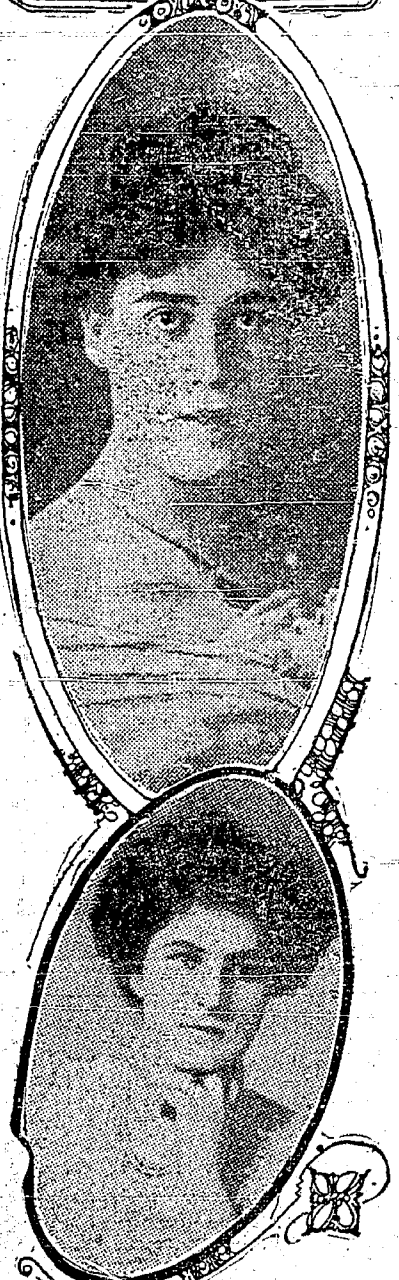

During this same period in 1911, 30,221 refrigerator cars were used by the Pacific Fruit Express at Roseville, and 11,185 cars were used at the Colton plant. The average number of cars used each day during the busy season is 136 at Roseville and 60 cars at Colton. This ice, if placed together in one solid block would be larger than San Francisco's largest skyscraper, and as heavy as three such structures.

LAND SHOW MAY BE HELD HERE NEXT YEAR

Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange and the Alameda County General Exposition, has returned from the meeting of the Oak-land Real Estate Association in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday night. Walker's subject will be the resources of the county, and will be a duplication of the lectures which he delivers at the various land shows throughout the country as member of the exposition commission. In connection with the address, it has been suggested that the members of the association consider a proposition to hold a land show similar to those in Chicago, Omaha, and other middle-western cities in Oakland within the next year. It is expected the matter will be brought up following Walker's talk.

CAPTAIN GREENE GOOD SEA LAWYER

Offers Unique Answer to Miss Macfarlane's Breach of Promise Suit.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Captain William W. Greene of the Japanese liner Chiyu Maru, through his attorney, A. A. Moore Jr., yesterday filed a demurrer in the Superior Court to the $51,000 breach of promise suit, filed by Miss Gertrude Macfarlane about a month ago. The demurrer declared that Miss Macfarlane's complaint does not state sufficient grounds for a cause of action.

Miss Macfarlane declared in her complaint that Captain Greene had promised to marry her. "But," says Captain Greene, in answer, "there is no proof that she has ever promised to marry him, beyond her statement."

In refutation of that part of Miss Macfarlane's petition for a monetary claim, in which she says she spent $1900 on a wedding trousseau, the captain says:

"Inasmuch as all persons must be clothed, it is uncertain and does not appear if the clothing was unsuitable for the station of a single woman."

Miss Macfarlane stated in her petition that through Captain Greene's refusal to marry her she has been held up to public ridicule. Captain Greene replies to that charge in this way:

"Considering in law and in fact that such an unhappy plight would deserve and receive sympathy from the public, it is uncertain and does not appear how or why she was held up to the ridicule, or how or in what manner her damages were thus aggravated."

FOES OF BIG NAVY ARRAIGNED BY MEYER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Abandonment of the program for two battleships this year brought out a statement from Secretary of the Navy Meyer yesterday. He arraigned the action of the Democratic caucus as "giving another illustration of government by snap judgment."

Meyer asserted that the "Monroe doctrine is as big as the navy and no bigger," and that the United States guaranteeing the neutrality of the Panama canal, must be prepared to make good its pledge.

"Even with a continuous program of two battleships a year," said Secretary Meyer, "the United States will fall a little behind its present effective strength for the reason that in another year four of our battleships built during the same period will become non-effective. The dreadnought type is the warship of the present day."

BRING SUIT TO BREAK WILL OF MRS. STONE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—An attempt to break the will of the late Mrs. Emma Stone, widow of former Mayor Corliss F. Stone of Seattle, has been started in the Probate Court here by Walter B. Crossman of Aurora, Ill., and Grace Monroe Irwin of Chicago, nephew and niece of Mrs. Stone, who claims undue influence on the part of Mrs. Florence K. McPherran of Pasadena. Under the terms of the will the residue of the estate, which was valued at $500,000, was given to Mrs. McPherran. Crossman and Mrs. Irwin allege in their petition that they were cut out with only a small bequest, and that through alleged undue influence exerted by Mrs. McPherran she obtained the major portion of the estate. The contestants also ask for the cancellation of a deed to residence property in Pasadena, given to Mrs. McPherran by Mrs. Stone.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS GROW

WINNIPEG, Jan. 31.—That 76,128,000 bushels of grain have been marketed on the Canadian Pacific Railroad this year, against 55,518,000 bushels for the same period last year, is shown by reports just completed. Of the former total $1,740,000 bushels are wheat and 14,338,000 other grains, while of the 55,518,000 bushels, 49,667,000 bushels were wheat and 11,911,000 bushels other grains.

PASTOR REPORTS WELL OF AMERICA

Rev. R. J. Campbell Likes Us; Says Roosevelt Would Be Urged.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Rev. R. J. Campbell, pastor of the famous City Temple of London, returned home yesterday after a twenty thousand-mile tour, which included America.

"The Americans are a very generous people and treated me very well," said the minister. "I met practically none of that American brag and bluster you hear so much about. Nine years ago over there I used to keep running across much anti-British feeling. This time, however, there was not a whiff of it. Am I going to America to live? There is as much likelihood of my becoming a Gaius Cincinnatus as of my being an invitation to an American pulpit."

Long interviews giving the Rev. Mr. Campbell's impressions of American appear in all the morning papers. "They have real puritanism in America," he told a Daily "News" reporter. "They can't understand how we allow women to enter saloons. They would hiss off the stage any actor who indulged in the light talk about women that you hear in music halls."

After describing his conversation with Theodore Roosevelt, about the chief influence on American life, Mr. Campbell was asked if Roosevelt intended to be a candidate for the presidency. He replied:

"My idea is that he wishes to be pressed to run for the office; that is why he attacked the arbitration treaty with this country. He wanted to down Taft, and undoubtedly it was a bad blow for Taft when his arbitration plans failed."

"I saw indications that labor is almost ripe for a revolt. Public feeling is very strong against wealthy corporations."

MARIN COUNTY OBJECTS TO BEING LEFT OUT

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 31.—A storm of protest at the omission of Marin county from the course of the proposed State highway is sweeping all sections of the county, as a result of which the various promotion, improvement and automobile clubs and the boards of trustees of all towns are united today to bring the highway south from Petaluma to Sausalito. Appeal for help is also being made to San Francisco.

In view of the fact that Marin county is the home of many San Francisco business men, and that, therefore, San Francisco is vitally interested in having the highway brought through this locality, Mayor Rolph and the San Francisco supervisors are being asked for support.
